Senior center critics mad over promised meet sanfu

By BOB AMEEN
ANP Staff Writer

A meeting with city officials that may not come off as promised, plus additional reasons for misgivings, have further upset a group of concerned Romulus citizens questioning a proposed senior citizens high-rise building near Bibbins and Shook streets.

According to Mrs. Diana M. Burek, spokesperson for Citizens Against Exploitation (CAE), the city council promised to give the group a special meeting at least two weeks prior to a rezoning hearing on the high-rise.

She said the group's request was put into a motion made by council member Beverly McAnally at its Oct. 10 meeting.

However, she charged, the city Planning Commission on Oct. 16 agreed to set Nov. 13 as the date for the rezoning hearing at the request of a representative of North Cranbrook Associates, developers of the proposed high-rise.

She said both Mayor William M. Oakley and Councilman James Raspberry were present at the plan commission session.

"We are very concerned about this action because we made our request for a formal public hearing on the high-rise very clear at the Oct. 10, 1978 council meeting," she said.

To back up her claims, Mrs. Burek went to the city clerk's office Friday to listen to the tapes of the Oct. 10 council session when CAE was promised a special meeting two weeks or more in advance of the rezoning hearing.

Mrs. Burek said she made the trip to city hall because CAE had been informed that council had meant it would notify the group of the rezoning hearing two weeks in advance, not the granting of a special session with them.

"I was told by Clerk Leonard Folmar that no tapes existed for the Oct. 10 council meeting. He said that either the recording machine was not working properly or that the council meeting of Oct. 17 had been recorded on top of the Oct. 10 tape recording," she said.

In view of this latest happening, Mrs. Burek remarked, "We can't correct the minutes now. It's another case of keeping sloppy minutes."

Adding fuel to the displeasure of CAE members with the proposed high-rise were additional faults found with the project by investigations carried out by the group.

Mrs. Burek said additional faults found were: sewer and water mains in the area are not adequate; roads servicing the area are inadequate for the added traffic; the downtown area already has a traffic congestion problem with several accident-prone areas; the builder now wants 224 units in the high-rise instead of the previously announced 200 units; the builder should have about 10 acres of land for that size building and approved population density instead of the 4.2 acres he is in the process of acquiring; the number of senior citizens signed up for the high-rise may be less than half of that which the building is designed to hold.

Mrs. Burek said the builder still has three more lots to purchase to reach the desired 4.2 acres he wants. However, she pointed out, the owners of the three lots do not want to sell.

In earlier swipes at the proposed high-rise project, CAE had noted

Vote is 18-3

City employees turn down union

Supervisory and hourly workers at Romulus City Hall turned down an American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) attempt to unionize them by an overwhelming vote of 18 to 3 last week, with three challenges.

Viewed by many city hall observers as a vote of confidence for Mayor William M. Oakley's administration, the lop-sided defeat marks a halt to an organization drive started during the waning days of the Steward administration in 1977.

Spearheaded by several city department heads, the move to organize city employees was sparked by an impending change of administrations and the candidacy of a former mayor.

Thus, in the summer of 1977, the primary motive was seen as job security for some 40 department heads and non-supervisory staff employees still not unionized by the Teamsters or AFSCME.

A vote to unionize was held in July, with only three "no" votes cast, but because of Mayor James Stewart's failure to notify the city council of the union's intentions, the vote was subsequently overturned and a new one scheduled last week.

In the interim, long-time Councilman William Oakley was elected mayor, largely on a platform of restoring professionalism and respect for the city of Romulus and its government.

Few changes in personnel were made at the outset of Oakley's term of office and the issue of job security faded.

By law, last week's vote prohibits AFSCME, an arm of the AFL-CIO, from attempting to organize employees into their union for at least one year.

In a letter sent to the 21 city employees who voted in last week's election, Mayor Oakley assured them his administration will continue "... to address the needs, desires and feelings of those who make our operation work ..."

He concluded by saying their "good faith" in his attempts to improve working conditions and morale would "not go unnoticed," and that through cooperation, further progress will be made toward reaching their mutual goals.

Jacqueline Trumble killed in auto crash

A Romulus woman was killed instantly and two persons injured early last Wednesday when the car she was driving was hit head-on by an oncoming vehicle on Middlebelt Road just north of West Road in Huron Township.

Dead is Mrs. Jacqueline Trumble, 43, of 28305 Goddard Rd., Romulus, who state police said was traveling south on Middlebelt Road just before 8 a.m.

Her daughter, Dolores, 16, was injured and taken to Seaway Hospital in Trenton.

Investigating officers said the driver of the second car, Burton Dancer Jr., 42, of New Boston, was hurt seriously and also taken to the same Trenton hospital.

Investigation of the fatal accident was made by troopers Dennis Chester, Michael Parker and Glen Hartley. Their report showed that Dancer, who was driving north, evidently lost control of his car, which went off the roadway onto the right shoulder and then came back onto Middlebelt, crossing the center line and colliding with Mrs. Trumble's automobile.

Mrs. Trumble is the wife of Jack Trumble, ex-councilman for the city of Romulus. He has been active in Democrat political circles and was editor of a pro-Terry Troutt newsletter backing the former mayor and other candidates.

No charges were filed pending further investigation.

Collects $2,500

Dance a hit for Rishel girl

The city of Romulus collectively gave its heart Friday during a benefit dance at the Progressive Hall to 11-year-old Elaine Rishel, a recent kidney transplant recipient.

The medical and financial needs of the little girl and her family came to light several months ago following a front page story that appeared in the Romulus Roman.

Following that, several neighbors and friends of the family banded together and launched a two-month fund-raising campaign that reached its climax when 300 people attended the dance Friday night.

During that time, civic organizations, private individuals, clubs, businessmen, community leaders, senior citizens, students and many others gave generously in an outpouring of love and generosity.

In all, some $6,500 has been collected thusfar, including $2,500 from the proceeds of the dance alone.

The result is that many of the hospital bills incurred during Elaine's operation will now be paid and the expensive weekly medication purchased on time.

For Elaine and her family, the experience has brought a tremendous spectrum of emotions, ranging from despair to exhilaration, and has left them all slightly bewildered.

For those who were unable to donate to the medical fund established at the Manufacturers Band, Vice President Leo Kalota reports the fund is still open. He can be called at 941-0600 for details.

Residents are also reminded that a benefit fashion show, featuring the latest men's and women's styles from Hudson's, and modelled by prominent residents, will be held in the Romulus High School auditorium on Thursday, Nov. 9, beginning at 7 p.m.

Tickets are $3 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12. For more information, call Mrs. Sandra Langley at 942-0245.

For a worthy cause

Councilman Fred "Junior" Block and Nita Laine, receptionist in the mayor's office, share master of ceremonies duties Friday night when some 300 persons turned out for a benefit dance held for an 11-year-old Romulus girl, Elaine

Rishel, at the Progressive Hall in Romulus. Approximately $2,500 was raised by the dance and will go toward paying medical expenses incurred when she had a kidney transplant last July. (Photo by Jay Young.)

Huron school board turns down $87,000

The school board's reluctance to put up $25,000 will end up costing the Huron School District $87,000 more it could have received to install a data processing system.

According to a spokesperson in the Huron school system, the board could have received $56,000 in state aid grants if it would have matched that sum from its own revenues.

Actually, the source said, the Huron district would have been reimbursed for $31,000 in added cost vocational funds, thus making it only liable for $25,000 of the total $56,000 needed for matching funds.

The board planned to take $25,000 from its building and site fund rather than the normal procedure of utilizing general fund monies, but said it did not know where it would get the additional $31,000 the spokesperson said.

However, the source added, the had been previously informed by Supt. Byron Antcliff that the $31,000 sum would come from the state in added cost vocational funds.

At any rate, the Huron School District now will lose a data processing system which a manufacturer had quoted it could install for the total $112,000 of state and local allocations.

On Nov. 7 ballot

W-W school board takes stand against tax cut proposals

By MAUREEN CAMPS
ANP Staff Writer

The Wayne-Westland Board of Education declared its "undivided opposition" Monday night to the three tax revolt proposals on the Nov. 7 ballot.

The undivided opposition mentioned in the resolution did contain one chink in the armor, however.

Board President Fred Warmbier abstained from voting on the resolution. He said that he does oppose the Tisch Proposal (J) and the Voucher Plan for financing education (H), but said the Headlee proposal (E) "does have some commendable points to it."

Because of his feelings on the Headlee Proposal for tax limitation, Warmbier said he couldn't support the resolution expressing total opposition to all three.

The voting followed a recital of doom presented by Supt. Timothy Dyer, who called all three proposals "deadly" to education.

"They will cause crisis government in Michigan if any, all, or any combination of the three pass," Dyer said.

He called Tisch "the worst of all," saying that the district could potentially lose $8 million, if it passed. Although Tisch allows for recoup of some of that loss through levy of a 1 percent income tax for schools, the loss would still be overwhelming, he said.

He said that the proposal benefits the wealthy, industry and commercial enterprises.

The Tisch proposal would immediately cut in half property tax assessments, limit future increases in tax assessment and income tax, but allow an income tax of 1 percent for schools, subject to voter approval.

It is this proposal that most cities and school districts are most fearful of, and which they predict would cause drastic cuts in services.

Dyer went on to call the Voucher Plan proposal "disguised parochialism."

The plan eliminates the use of property taxes to operate schools, instead establishing a voucher system for financing education of students in public and non-public schools.

The amendment "produces 60 questions for every one it answers," Dyer complained.

Private education would benefit, but would it be subject to public education's rules and regulations, he asked.

He maintained that the districts would end up "competing" for students' vouchers, and theoretically, a student could pick any school anywhere to attend.

In addition, it "also raises the age old concept of separation of church and state."

Dyer went on to call Headlee Proposal the "most deceitful" of all the proposals, because it doesn't sound bad "during the good times."

"But you're going to have bad times, especially in Michigan, where the economy is cyclical and we are basically dependent on one industry."

The Headlee proposal for tax limitation, would limit all state spending to a percentage of state personal income, although that limit could be lifted for one year, if the governor and two-thirds of the Congress declared an emergency. The proposal states that no local unit of government could levy any taxes without a vote of the people. Now, cities do levy taxes without a vote, to retire bonds bought to finance construction.

Dyer maintains that passage of the proposal would "destroy all hope of property tax reform."

"It will force us, in education and in cities, to go to the only well not tapped — property taxes," Dyer said. "We'll end up cutting services until they (the citizens) pass higher property taxes."

The board generally agreed with Dyer's analysis of Tisch and the Boucher Plan, but Warmbier explained why he could not vote yes on a resolution to oppose Headlee as well.

"I'm not saying I support it or don't support it, but I want to point out a few things," Warmbier began.

"First, Headlee would place a spending limit on the legislature, and that's not all bad. Everyone of us in our daily lives faces that situation.

"It does permit an accumulation of funds in the good times to carry to bad times.

"It says that if the legislature mandates programs, it will have to provide funds for them, and that's not all bad either.

"It also does provide, in an economy slack, for an emergency increase!"

Warmbier then urged voters to take a careful look at the pros and cons of Headlee and decide for themselves. He also warned citizens of the propaganda "blitz" that will surely be spouting all sorts of claims for both sides in the next few weeks before the election.

Rev. Carl Trosien installed as pastor of St. Paul Church

The congregation of St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church in New Boston has a new pastor, following the installation of The Rev. Carl F. Trosien to the position Oct. 8.

The Rev. Donald A. Kuhn, counselor of the Monroe Circuit, performed the installation ceremony, while The Rev. Paul O. Richert, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church of Monroe, was the liturgist.

The new pastor's father, The Rev. Carl O. Trosien, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran Church of Dearborn, delivered the installation sermon.

A native of Allegan, Mich., Pastor Trosien received an associate of arts degree in 1972 from Concordia College in Ann Arbor. He received his bachelor of arts degree two years later from Concordia Senior College in Ft. Wayne, Ind., and his master of divinity degree in 1978 from Concordia Seminary in St. Louis, Mo.

His vicarage was served at St. John Lutheran Church in Indianapolis, Ind.

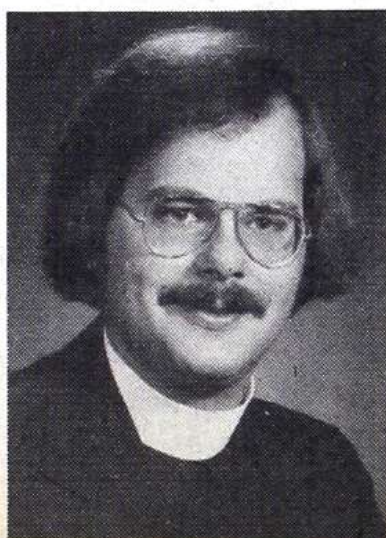

He was ordained by his father, at Immanuel Lutheran Church in Dearborn in June of this year.

The Rev. Trosien is married to the former Kimberly K. Boyd. The couple will be making their home in New Boston.

Also taking part in the installation ceremony were Pastor Herbert Fehrer, emeritus, of Trinity Lutheran Church, Monroe; Pastor

John H. Schaible of St. John Lutheran Church, Waltham; Pastor Keith Schneider of South Lyon; Pastor John M. Gargern of Dearborn and Pastor Kenneth E. Runge of Detroit.

The installation of Pastor Trosien fills a vacancy that has existed for 13 months, following the sudden death of Pastor Daniel H.F. Richert. The late Rev. Richert had served at the New Boston church since 1959.

YACC provides jobs for youths

Now, unemployed youths aged 18 to 23 can turn an interest in the outdoors and ecology into money and job training.

How? By visiting Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) Job Service offices in their areas, and learning about Young Adult Conservation Corps (YACC).

YACC is a federally-sponsored program which gives unemployed young people a chance to earn $2.75 an hour for one year while learning conservation work.

Young people will work in Michigan's national and state parks, forests and wildlife refuges on such conservation projects as tree nursery operations, wildlife habitat improvement and preservation; recreation development; rehabilitation and maintenance; range management improvement; fisheries management; forest insect and disease prevention and control; road and trail maintenance and improvement; general sanitation, cleanup and maintenance; erosion control and flood damage; and natural disaster measures.

According to the MESC, young people don't need experience, they'll get plenty of that working with YACC. An interest in conservation and a general work ability are necessary.

To be eligible, youths must also be unemployed and out of school and a resident of the United States. Residential jobs may be available for those who prefer to live in dormitories near their work sites at no charge. Meals will be provided for a small fee.

Those interested can apply at the nearest MESC Job Service Office - 8825 General Drive, Plymouth, or 38333 Van Born Road, Romulus - or write for an application to Youth Adult Conservation Corps, 7310 Woodward, Room 415, Detroit 48202.

Be sure to include your name and address and telephone number and if you prefer residential or nonresidential employment.

Belleville, Detroit Diesel receive KMB accolades

A Western Wayne municipality and factory, as well as Wayne County itself have been selected as recipients of awards from the Keep Michigan Beautiful Inc. for outstanding achievement in projects for outdoor beautification.

Collecting the honors are Belleville's Edward Keene Environmental Area for turning a limestone mine and dump area into a teaching and resource area; Romulus's Detroit Diesel Allison Plant for outstanding landscaping around the plant; and Wayne County's Master Gardener Program, used by Michigan State University to train people to help others with gardening projects.

"The projects to be recognized have made a great contribution to Michigan's beauty and hopefully will help bring more tourists and small industry to our state," said

Frank H. Abar, president of Keep Michigan Beautiful Inc.

The awards will be presented at the organization's annual meeting, planned for Oct. 24-25 in Lansing.

KMB is a volunteer, civic and state-wide organization devoted to programs to help preserve Michigan's beauty.

Haunted house to open

The Romulus Senior Citizens are sponsoring a haunted house beginning Saturday, Oct. 28 and running through Tuesday, Oct. 31. House hours will be 6:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. Located on the corner of Sterling and Bibbins streets, the haunted house will cost children a 50 cent entry fee. For further information call 941-0666, extension 67.

No parking after snows

Remember the awful winter of 1978?

Like it or not, the winter of 1979 will soon be here, and the Romulus City Council has taken steps to ensure that citizens will not be unduly inconvenienced because of heavy snow falls.

The council passed an ordinance that prohibits residents from parking motor vehicles or trailers on any public street or highway in Romulus after a snowfall of six inches or more.

Accept fire hall

The Romulus City Council last week officially accepted Fire Hall No. 4, the community's "first real adequate facilities for a fire station and department headquarters", according to Fire Chief John Willhide.

Located on Eureka Road, west of Harrison, the new fire station was built from federal grants at a cost of more than $400,000. It will house a full-size pumper, a mini-pumper and a rescue van and will serve as headquarters for the all-volunteer fire department for the community, the chief said.

The old Fire Hall No. 4, on Eureka east of Brandt, was located next door to the old district court building. Both have been purchased by the Detroit Metro Airport and will be torn down and the grounds fenced in, the chief said.

Willhide said, "The new fire station was built so that if Romulus should ever had a full-time fire department, it could handle the equipment and provide necessary facilities."

He explained that the other three fire stations in Romulus actually serve only to house fire vehicles and equipment.

Injured pupils recover

During the Labor Day weekend, two Gordonier Elementary School students, David Stockdale, who will be in second grade, his brother Richard, who will be in third grade, and their mother were involved in a serious accident near Saginaw Mich.

David and Richard Stockdale were in comas but are recovering and have been moved from a hospital in Saginaw to the University Hospital in Ann Arbor.

The students at Gordonier instituted a benefit cupcake sale Wednesday to help the Stockdales with expenses resulting from this accident.

Through the help of Mrs. Maureen Savage and Mrs. Annette French students have sent to David and Richard, many get-well cards and various notes to try to see them through the long hospital stay. Anyone wishing to send cards and letters can obtain the address at school.

Cant in hospital

John T. Cant, building inspector for the Romulus Building Department, last Thursday was taken to the intensive care unit of Annapolis Hospital, Wayne, after suffering a heart attack.

Cant has been with the building department for 11 years and most recently has been serving as acting director following the discharge of Ed Fall, former director.

Civil Service explained

Councilman James Raspberry will explain his resolution passed recently by Romulus City Council that would place city employees on civil service before a meeting of We the People at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 26, at Romulus

City Hall. We the People urges Romulus residents to attend this meeting and learn about the civil service issue which will on the ballot at the Nov. 7 general election in Romulus.

Board meeting changed

Monday, Nov. 13, according to Supt. Byron Antcliff.

District Court opens

The new Romulus 34th District Court building, 11131 Wayne Road, will open its doors officially on Sunday, Oct. 29, 1978 from 2:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. during a grand opening celebration.

The public open house caps years of planning and studies for a first-rate law facility to serve Romulus and the surrounding communities of Belleville, and Van Buren, Sumpter and Huron Townships.

A delegation of dignitaries headed by Mayor William M. Oakley, and including Congressman William Ford and Senate Majority Leader William Faust are expected to be on hand to dedicate the 14,000 square foot building. (The court has been open for business since Aug. 1, 1978, when it moved from the old Hale School site it has occupied since 1969.)

Following brief ceremonies, featuring the high school band, CAP drill team color guard, VFW, post commanders and court personnel, the ribbon will be cut and the doors opened for tours, displays, and refreshments. The public is invited to attend.

Schools alter calendar

Huron School District has issued revisions to the 1978-79 school year calendar.

Revisions are as follows: end of first marking period - Nov. 3, 1978; parent-teacher conferences - Nov. 15, 16 and 17, 1978 (half days); Thanksgiving vacation - same as originally scheduled; Christmas vacation - same as originally scheduled; Christmas vacation - same as originally scheduled; record day - Jan. 26, 1979 (no school); winter break - March 2, 1979 (no school); end of second marking period - March 30, 1979; Good Friday April 13, 1979 (half day) spring parent-teacher conferences - to be decided at later date; spring vacation - same as originally scheduled; full day of school - June 15, 1979; future in-service days - to be decided at later date. No lunch will be served when school is held half days.

that the city fire department's seven-story ladder could not reach to the top of the nine-story structure and that low-income families could be used to make up any deficiency in senior citizen tenants.

She commented, "The most important obligation to every citizen is to know what is going on and how it will affect you. This is why we believe that the whole matter should be aired at a formal hearing at least two weeks prior to any rezoning for a high-rise."

At such a special hearing, citizens would have the opportunity to learn all of the facts before addressing themselves to the matter at the later rezoning session.

"We firmly believe that resident living next to or close to any area being rezoned should be given full information before a rezoning hearing and should be heard and listened to at a rezoning hearing," she declared.

She said CAE will immediately canvass citizens living next to or near the proposed high-rise site and then go on to question the rest of Romulus citizens.

VB man held in five murders

By BOBAMEEN
ANP Staff Writer

For the third time in two months, murder has rocked the Van Buren Township community.

The latest episode Thursday was bloody and savage — the wanton killing of five persons. Charged with three Washtenaw County slayings and that of his parents in Van Buren Township is 21-year-old Billy Hardesty.

Two other wounded persons are expected to recover.

Last Aug. 12, Jill Harvey, 16 was stabbed to death in her mother's apartment. Her older sister's boyfriend is charged with slashing her throat.

Then, either Sept. 30 or Oct. 1, Steven R. Lynch, 23, a military policeman scheduled to come home on leave to visit his parents was shot to death. His body was found only a half mile from his parents home before he had reported in from Texas.

Police are still looking for a suspect in that case. An earlier lead fizzled out after several daily newspapers had indicated a prime suspect was being checked out.

As now reconstructed by police, young Hardesty spent several hours Wednesday night and early Thursday morning in the company of Timothy Scholfield, 22, of Belleville, and Troy Lee Curry, 25, of Canton Township.

An on-going argument was continued out in the parking lot of Abigail's Dirty Shame Saloon in Ypsilanti shortly before 2 a.m. Witnesses told police Hardesty went to his car, got a .22 caliber rifle and shot Scholfield and Curry. Both died.

Next, police said, Hardesty went to the home of his former father-in-law, Elmer Wood, in Canton Township sometime between leaving Abigail's saloon and 3:30 a.m. Hardesty had been divorced from Wood's daughter, Paula, following a short marriage and the birth of a daughter.

Police then traced him to a Ypsilanti Township machine shop, Stiles-Wood Corporation and Associated Boring Co. He reportedly broke into the machine shop and opened fire, killing Donald E. Wood, 38, his former brother-in-law, and wounding two other men.

Lt. John Shewell, in charge of the investigation for the Michigan State Police, Ypsilanti post, identified the two wounded men as Bobby J. Baker, 23, of Westland, and Tommy Lee Brown, 29, of Tecumseh. Both are being treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ypsilanti.

Communication between the Ypsilanti police investigating the saloon parking lot shooting and the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department looking into the machine shop incident led them to believe they were looking for the same gunman.

After one of the men wounded at the machine shop told officers that they had been shot by Hardesty, officers from the Ypsilanti Police Department, the state police and Washtenaw Sheriff's office went to 49630 Martz Rd., where Hardesty's parents lived.

When officers stepped up on the porch of the Hardesty home about 7:15 a.m. the young suspect yelled out that he was armed and the group of policemen took cover in the front yard.

Hardesty came out on the porch and began firing at police with a rifle. Returning gunfire hit Hardesty in the shoulder and abdomen and he retreated into the house. He then continued shooting at police, but had exchanged his rifle for a shotgun.

After trying in vain to get Hardesty to respond to telephone calls made from a neighbor's house, the suspect finally answered about 8:30 a.m. He agreed to come out, but said he could not walk because of his wounds.

After crawling out the front door, Hardesty collapsed and was put on a stretcher and taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

A check of the Hardesty home disclosed his mother, Jeannette Hardesty, 40, dead in a bedroom, with four bullets pumped into her head. Later that afternoon, about 3:30 p.m., officers found his father, Ronald Hardesty, 43. His body had been stuffed into a locker-type freezer and covered with foodstuffs. He had been shot at least six times.

Lt. Shewell said Hardesty's wounds were serious, but that he was expected to recover. Police and hospital authorities reported that when questioned, Hardesty was hostile and mean.

By Monday, Hardesty faced five murder warrants in the first degree in the deaths of the five slain victims and two more warrants charging assault with intent to commit murder in the wounding of the two men at the machine shop.

Word has leaked out that young Hardesty had been a drug user and may have been high on a large dosage of Valium which he told a neighbor early Thursday morning he had taken before the killings at the saloon and machine shop.

The slain elder Hardesty was a heavy equipment operator. His mother was a familiar face at the Belleville Post Office where she had worked at one of the two windows for four of her 11 years with the U.S. Postal Service.

Although law enforcement authorities reported that Hardesty and two older brothers, David, 24, and Gary, 22, had been in trouble with the law on several occasions, few people knew the turmoil brewing at the Hardesty home.

Postmaster Ray O'Neill, Mrs. Hardesty's boss, said no one who knew the pleasant, smiling woman would have guessed her family was having problems, especially with Billy.

Funeral services were held Monday for the slain Hardesty couple at Robert Bros. Funeral Home in Belleville. Burial was in Michigan Memorial Cemetery in Huron Township.

Would improve efficiency

Clerk to test poll workers

A testing system is being instituted by Romulus Clerk Leonard J. Folmar for election workers that hopefully will bring about more efficient and rapid voting for city residents.

"Currently, these examinations are being given to workers who have been employed by the city at election time to work in the various precincts.

"Ultimately, however, all persons who want to work in election precincts will have to take these examinations and score at least 92 percent," the clerk explained.

Of approximately 120 persons who recently took the examinations, 30 received scores of 92 percent or above, Folmar reported, with one election worker achieving a perfect score.

Scoring 100 percent was Donna Sharrow, while three others — Dorothy Lalonde, Donna Lee Zavitz and Margaret Maitland — attained 98 percent on the tests, the clerk said. Three others scored 96 percent, six compiled 94 percent, and 14 recorded the minimum 92 percent, he added.

The clerk commented that the examinations will give present election precinct workers, who number more than 100 at election time, and new workers "a basic level of election procedures that will make them feel more comfortable when out in the field."

Folmar said that he believed all election workers who took the tests should be commended for their efforts, adding that all received a written certification of their test score achievements.

"Regardless of their test scores, all who took them will have gained knowledge that will prove invaluable to themselves and the residents of Romulus," Folmar emphasized.

Election precinct workers receive $40 a day and chairman are paid $50 per day, the clerk said.

Compete in short dashes

Boy Scouts hold Camporee

The group campsite at Lower Huron Metropark buzzed with scouting activities Oct. 13, 14, and 15 as over 250 Scouts, Webelos Cub Scouts, and leaders from Belleville, Romulus, Taylor, and Woodhaven participated in the annual Huron District fall camporee.

This year's event, billed a "Mystery" Camporee, invited area scout troops to camp out for the weekend and to compete against other troops in a day-long program Saturday, in which scouts earned points by solving complex (but potentially real-life) problems.

Knowledge and proficiency in scout skills, such as lashing, camping, and first aid, helped the scouts earn points, but many other skills, such as leadership, communication, and teamwork, as well as brain power and brawn, were included in the scoring.

Troop 825, Eagle Patrol of Taylor's V.F.W. Post 4422, took first place, and the Cobra Patrol and Rebel Patrol of Troop 914, Knights of Columbus 4872, took second and third place, respectively, and also won "Best Camporee Campsite" for the second year in a row.

Webelos Scouts (10-year old Cub Scouts from local Cub Scout packs) participated in their own camporee program Saturday, testing their athletic abilities. Special activities for Cub Scouts included races through formations of old automobile tires, a hand-over-hand rope climb, 50-yard dash, and a log bridge and log jump race.

Henry Cone, cubmaster of Taylor's West Mound United Methodist Church's Pack 813, chaired the Webelos program with help from his son, Dan Cone, Taylor; Jerry Green, Romulus; and Harold Buck of Wayne.

Halloween treat testing set

The Romulus Jaycees each year publish a list of suggestions for parents designed to make Halloween a happy and safe outing for their children.

These suggestions become necessary because a few unthinking individuals, whether by malicious prank or otherwise, intentionally harm children. If children go trick-or-treating the following suggestions may prove helpful in avoiding unnecessary accidents:

Have an adult go with each group of children, especially the very young. Give the oldest a flashlight.

— Stay in familiar territory, preferably in your own neighborhood.

— Accept nothing from people in parked cars.

— Look both ways before crossing the street.

— Dress so that mask or costume will not greatly hinder vision or movements. Widen the eye holes with scissors if necessary.

— Dress in bright clothing and stick reflective tape on their costumes or trick-or-treat bags.

— Do not eat anything while you are on the street; wait until you get

— Parents should promptly empty the contents of the Halloween bag and examine each piece.

— Cut open all apples and oranges and throw away all unwrapped candy.

— Report any dangerous objects found in the candy or fruit to your local police.

— Drive slowly and warily.

— Watch for children darting out between parked cars.

— Tap your horn occasionally on dimly lighted residential streets.

— Be extremely cautious while backing out of driveways.

In the armed forces

Cooper enters Air Force through its DEP

Richard A. Cooper Jr., 19, who lives on North Telegraph Road in Romulus, has entered the U.S. Air Force through its Delayed Enlistment Program (DEP).

According to Sgt. Marty Schmieder, the Air Force recruiter in Monroe, Cooper will enter the regular Air Force Monday. Following graduation from the six-week basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., he will receive technical training in the mechanical aptitude area before being assigned to an Air Force duty station.

Also in the armed forces:

Robin G. Baschal, 17, recently entered the Air Force, and is taking basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Baschal of Merriman Road, New Boston, she will then receive technical training in the general aptitude area before being assigned to an Air Force duty station.

Ms. Baschal is a 1978 graduate of Huron High School in New Boston.

David L. Foster, the son of retired Air Force Ser. M. Sgt. and Mrs. Leslie A. Foster of Patrick, Ypsilanti, has been promoted to senior airman in the U.S. Air Force.

Airman Foster, an integrated avionics systems specialist, is assigned at Mountain Home Air Force Base, Idaho, with a unit of the Tactical Air Command.

The airman is a 1975 graduate of Belleville High School. His wife, Denise, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Bailey of Edwards Street, Belleville.

Marine Pfc. Michael W. Mickus, the son of Algid J. and Barbara A. Mickus of Ecorse Road, Belleville, has reported for duty at the New River Marine Corps Air Station, at Jacksonville, N.C.

A 1977 graduate of Belleville High School, he joined the Marine Corps in October 1977.

Navy Aviation Structural Mechanic 2c David R. Currie and Navy Electronics Tech. Richard A. Browning, both of Romulus, are participating in the major NATO exercise "Display Determination." Currie, the son of Samuel C. and Marjorie D. Currie of Hamman Road, Romulus, is serving as a member of Attack Squadron 83, based at Cecil Field Naval Air Station at Jacksonville, Fla. His squadron is operating as a unit of the U.S. Sixth Fleet.

Browning, the son of Wilburn and Patricia Browning of Van Born Road, Romulus, is serving as a member of the frigate USS Paterson, homeported in Mayport, Fla. His ship is also operating with the Sixth Fleet.

"Display Determination" is designed to demonstrate and improve NATO's capability to reinforce and resupply southern Europe. Their commands have joined with forces from Belgium, Greece, Italy, Portugal, Turkey, and United Kingdom and the Federal Republic of Germany for the exercise.

A 1974 graduate of Romulus High School, Currie joined the Navy in April 1975. Browning joined the Navy in June 1975.

ARE YOU AWARE of a new Heaven, a new Earth and an Eternal Society?

ISAIAH 65:17 — For behold, I create new heavens and a new Earth: and the former shall not be remembered, nor come to mind.

JOHN 14:2,3 — In my Father's house there are many mansions: if it were not so I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you, And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you unto myself: that where I am, there ye may be also.

WHAT WILL PREPARE US
FOR THAT NEW HEAVEN AND NEW EARTH?

MATTHEW 6:19 — Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon Earths where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal:

20 — But lay up for yourselves treasures in Heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through and steal.

21 — For where your treasures is, there will your heart be also.

WHO SHALL MAKE UP THE INHABITANTS OF THIS WONDERFUL PLACE?

REVELATIONS 21:24 — And the nations of them which are saved shall walk in the right of it: and the Kings of the Earth do bring their glory and honor into it.

(The promises of God are not for any select group, as many groups would have us believe.)

LUKE 13:29 — And they shall come from the east, and from the west, and from the North, and from the South, and shall sit down in the Kingdom of God.

Beard opposes pay hike

Mrs. Kay Beard (D-Inkster) is one of three Western Wayne County Commissioners to declare their opposition to a proposed increase for Wayne County elected officials.

The other two are Thomas Presnell (D-Westland) and George Z. Hart (D-Dearborn).

The Elected Officials Compensation Committee, established by the Board of Commissioners last year to review the salaries of various elected officials and their deputies, recently recommended that the Board of Commissioners grant pay hikes ranging from 6 to 17 percent.

"The county has notified 228 employees that they will be laid off effective Nov. 1," Mrs. Beard said.

"This action was necessary because we were under court order to pay a $6.3 million arbitration award to Sheriff's deputies."

Mrs. Beard said that although the Michigan Supreme Court has stayed the further implementation of the arbitration award pending the outcome of the appeals process, some $2-million in retroactive pay has already been paid out to the deputies.

"At a time when we are also facing a huge $12 million deficit, I cannot in good conscience vote for pay raises for the top few, and layoffs for hundreds of county employees working in the courts, the health department, Wayne County General Hospital and other vital government services," she declared.

Presnell was just as firm in his opposition.

"I will not vote for pay increases for elected officials — many of whom are earning between $34,000 and nearly $47,000 a year — when we are laying off several hundred county workers due to a severe financial crunch," Presnell said.

"The proposed pay hikes might be justified under other circumstances, but there is no justification under the present situation," he added.

The first phase of the compensation committee's report recommended the following raises: Prosecuting Attorney from $43,900 to $50,000; Sheriff from $35,630 to $45,000; County Clerk from $35,630 to $42,000; the three County Auditors from $31,450 to $40,000; the Treasurer from $31,450 to $39,000; the Register of Deeds from $31,450 to $38,000 and the Drain Commissioner from $31,450 to $38,000.

The second phase has recommended a six percent pay boost for judges of Circuit, Probate and Common Pleas Courts which has already been approved by the State Legislature effective Dec. 1, subject to the approval by the Board of Commissioners.

Recommendations on the remaining elected officials are expected soon since the Board of Commissioners must make all pay decisions before final adoption of the 1978-79 county budget on Oct. 31 or shortly thereafter.

Commissioner Hart from Dearborn expressed concern for the welfare of the county's CETA workers as well.

"The raises for some of these fat cats — who are already earning extremely comfortable livings — would be as much as some of the county's CETA workers earn all year," Hart complained.

"Our employees have been asked to bite the bullet. I say the elected officials who are making more than $34,000 can sure as heck wait until the financial picture improves before they get pay increases," Hart said.

Rev. Petersen speaks at Belleville church

Now through Friday Dr. Eugene J. Petersen, a pastor and professor from the San Francisco Bay area, will be conducting special meetings at the Berean Baptist Church, 6889 Belleville Road, Belleville.

Dr. Petersen will be presenting Bible messages which apply to daily living and will preach the Gospel—that eternal life is gained through faith in Jesus Christ alone.

His titles for the meetings include "The Woman with the Frozen Face," "How to Stay Young" and "America's Greatest Sin".

Dr. Petersen is a World War II veteran of the 70th Infantry and three European campaigns. He received his bachelor of arts degree in philosophy from the University of Minnesota and did graduate study in the Bible at colleges in both Pasadena and San Francisco, Calif. He now is a doctoral candidate.

Dr. Petersen has been a pastor and professor in the San Francisco Bay area for many years and presently is professor of church history at the Detroit Baptist Divinity School in Allen Park.

Married and the father of two children, he lives in Van Buren Township.

Dr. Petersen will be speaking at the church at 7 p.m. every night. The public is invited to attend.

Treasurer's husband cultivates write-in

You can make your vote count while riding a tractor or sitting on the edge of a lawnmower at B&K's Lawn and Tractor Sales Inc.

But it's all for fun and practice. It is there that Canton Township voters may practice the art of voting; write-in style says George Bradley, husband of Canton Treasurer Anne Bradley.

Mrs. Bradley, along with supervisor Harold Stein has launched write-in campaigns to recapture three seats lost in Canton's primary.

Some may think having a state certified voting machine weighing in at 950 pounds may be out-of-place among lawnmowers, garden tools and fertilizer.

But Bradley sees it as being practical.

he also believes in making use of the piece of machinery that just happened to be delivered to his doorstep one day.

"I don't know where it came from, but what better use for it than to practice voting," said Bradley.

When interviewed by the Canton Eagle, Bradley said that he hoped to make political opponents miffed by refusing to disclose the origin of the where the machine came from.

"I want to keep it a big dark secret," said Bradley who did admit that neither his wife, or Stein had purchased the machine.

He determined that a voting machine was not a good investment considering that its use is limited to election days. There was no purchase agreement made, he said.

The Eagle learned from John Jay Hubbard, city clerk of Dearborn, that that city's council adopted a resolution allowing the rental of the machine to Stein.

The rental agreement was to run from Oct. 4 till election day Nov. 7, for a fee of $200.

Meet 'n Treat not dirty tricks

Meet and Treat. That is the cry that the Michigan Confectioners Association (MCA), would like to see replace the annual threat of 'Trick or Treat'.

The confectioners, representing the thousands of producers of the sweets that lure our children to the streets each Halloween, apparently feel that the concept of Halloween has been lost to the rampaging destruction of hurled eggs, smashed pumpkins, and spray painted houses and autos.

Apparently reacting also to the growing national trend away from the traditional Halloween celebration of sending the kids out on the streets, the confectioners fear the loss of thousands in Halloween related candy revenue.

According to MCA, the growing trend toward destruction is unnecessary, and an affront to the thousands who would choose to enjoy the holiday free from the wanton acts of the few. We agree with MCA.

For too long now, parents have stood back while their children have unleashed their barrage of eggs and other litter on the households of their neighbors. They have done so in the apparent belief that the kids were just having good clean fun. We say Rubbish.

We say that it is long past time for the parents of our community's children to accept, as their responsibility, the actions of their children. It is time for parents to put an end to the destruction of the Halloween celebration.

We suggest that those parents who choose to look the other way when their kids sneak out on devil's night, had best re-evaluate their thinking and act now to correct the growing national movement away from the traditional Halloween celebration.

The MCA has suggested that their 'Meet and Treat' slogan, replacing the traditional 'Trick or Treat', would go a long way toward changing the image of Halloween. By taking the trick out of Halloween, and emphasizing the positive, a family-oriented fun filled Halloween is possible. We again agree with MCA.

It is ironic that the confectioners would have to be the ones to take up the cry of returning to a sane and safe Halloween holiday. It is ironic that a profit motive is necessary to finally get the attention of the citizens of this area. But that is apparently the case.

We doubt there is a parent anywhere that has not now had just about enough of the Halloween related destruction.

For that reason we urge the adoption of the 'Meet and Treat' greeting for Halloween night.

'Meet and Treat' is endorsed by police chiefs, mayors, governors, and newspapers across this country.

We feel that anyone that is interested in helping to preserve the Halloween tradition, should also support 'Meet and Treat'.

'Meet and Treat' takes the trick out of Halloween. It may just put the fun back in.

From the Romulus School Board

By WAYNE M. AVERY, PRESIDENT
Romulus Board of Education

I would like to take this opportunity as President of the Romulus Board of Education to inform you of our goals for the coming year.

As you know, the Romulus Schools have spent two long and frustrating years of dealing with cutbacks in programs that created mistrust and animosity between the Board and the community. Progress in the Romulus Schools came to a virtual standstill and dissension was increasing. Fortunately, the needed millage was approved in November of 1977. These funds have given us the means to again move forward.

The Board has reinstated most of the programs that had been dropped including athletics, the six-hour day in secondary schools and art, music, and physical education in elementary schools. The threat of losing North Central Association Accreditation has been removed. Overall, we can once more take pride in our schools.

If the Board has but one goal to strive for this year, it is to bring together the schools and the community for the betterment of all concerned. Progress has been made in this area with the help of the Citizens Advisory Committee and the committee formed between the city and schools that is fostering cooperation and avoiding duplication of services.

Recently a Booster Club has been started to support our athletic programs and improve school spirit throughout the city.

The Board realizes that there are problems facing our school district, but cooperation, involvement and pride can all go a long way toward solving our difficulties.

The Board will do all in its power to foster trust and cooperation with each citizen of Romulus. We pledge ourselves to work with concerned parents, students, and employees to improve the services we provide. We will demand accountability from all our employees and also from ourselves.

The Board will be an active responsive body that will visit schools and city facilities in our attempt to make us truly the "Romulus Community Schools."

The field of education is changing and growing each year. Romulus can grow with the best school systems if we have unity. The Board will be looking into consolidating our schools to run a more efficient school system. We also will be looking into new programs and updating present ones. We will do what is necessary in order to provide our children with the best education possible. These goals are not impossible if we all take pride in our schools and enter a time of putting aside our past differences and work together for a better educational system.

Please come to us with your concerns so that we can try to work out solutions acceptable to all. We will listen and you will be treated with courtesy and respect due all citizens of Romulus.

Editor's Log

It was an expected surprise

By DENNIS FASSETT
Managing Editor

Well it's begun.

We knew it would. But still it's a surprise when special interest completely ignores community problems to promote its own welfare. We expected it, but still.

The recent announcement by New Detroit Inc. that it was joining the growing number of community groups in opposition to all three tax reform measures on November's ballot, is a surprise. But no more of a surprise than the announcement by the UAW that they were also opposed to tax reform.

Interesting! When you add the Michigan Education Association (MEA), Coleman Young, Wayne County government, and a majority of Michigan's lawmakers, to the growing list of the distinguished who oppose tax reform measures, you have to wonder why, or how, it could possibly be considered a threat.

You wonder, until you realize that the only group in favor of Tax Reform is the Michigan taxpayer.

Yes the barrage to sink tax reform has started.

From all corners of the Michigan we hear dire predictions of state-wide chaos resulting from proposed tax reform.

Our educators see government by crisis as the direct result of passage of any of the proposals.

Our politicians see tax reform as the 'destroyer' of public service.

Teacher unions see tax reform as a threat to strikes for financial gain.

The UAW sees tax reform as a threat to the availability of easy money for special interest government programs. But Michigan's citizens see tax reform as a possible way out of the unrelenting grip of rising taxes.

To be sure, many of those who have joined the fight against the tax reform measures, have done so only because they are convinced that the tax reform, as proposed, would hurt the very people it is designed to help.

I accept and even encourage their outspoken opposition.

But what I do resent is organized special interest campaigns by the minority, aimed at fleecing the majority.

Coleman Young recently said that he could not support any of the three tax reform measures now being considered. At the same time he announced the redecorating of his office at the City County Building.

The Mayor of Detroit who has said he will urge defeat of tax reform will shortly sit with his cronies on a $4,000 couch in front of a $15,000 conference table within his lavish new office that will cost Detroit taxpayers $1.7 million.

It isn't at all difficult to understand why 'His Honor' is opposed to tax reform.

The announcement that Michigan's 'union leadership' is opposed to tax reform, while 62 percent of its membership is, according to a state-wide poll, in favor of the proposals, is no great surprise.

Considering that state government, and that means government's union employment also, has grown by 50 percent in the last ten years it is no surprise that unions would oppose tax limitation and any halt in the growing number of dues paying members.

The County of Wayne has also gone on record in opposition to tax reform. But our commissioners have not allowed the ink to dry on county employee lay-off notices before going after a pay raise for themselves.

It's no wonder they oppose tax limitation.

It is apparent that no one in Michigan is in favor of tax reform. Unless you count the men and women who must pay the bill. The Michigan taxpayers.

But why would any one count us now, they have never considered us in the past!

From your lawmakers

Environment eyed by lawmakers

By EDWARD E. MAHALAK
State Representative
38th District

There has been concern in the Legislature this year for a better environment—one that is cleaner and safer.

This had included bills in the areas of waste disposal, poisonous chemicals, noise and rain-making.

Signed into law was a bill which will make it easier for local governments to finance, construct and operate waste management projects.

The new law permits a municipality to contract for the building of a waste management project through a process of negotiated competitive bidding, and to own and operate such a project jointly with another unit of government or a private organization.

By authorizing local governments to use special powers in financing waste management projects, the law will permit them to use existing authorities, thus avoiding the need to set up a separate, specialized financing tool.

The joint public-private ownership of waste management projects permitted under the law will encourage private enterprise to become involved in technologies which will ultimately serve the public interest.

The negotiated bidding provision of the new law is especially important. Given the extremely complex technologies involved and the unusually broad range of alternatives which the decision-makers must consider, bidders could find it prohibitively expensive to prepare complete sealed bids without guidance from the municipality, and the local government might not be able to draw up specifications without considering the primary proposals from contractors. Unless negotiated bidding is possible, there may be no bidding at all.

The law also allows local governments to pledge state revenue sharing funds or future taxes for repaying bonds which finance the projects.

There has, in recent years, been a number of chemical contaminations which have not only threatened the environment, but also human health. This includes troubles with such chemicals as PBB, PCB, mercury and DDT.

In order to move more effectively against such contaminations, and hopefully to prevent them, the Legislature passed a bill to establish a State Toxic Substance Control Commission.

The Commission will investigate reports of chemical contaminations, identify the problem, and regulate and coordinate actions to control it. If it feels that immediate action is needed, the commission could, with the approval of the governor, declare a toxic substance emergency.

In such an emergency, the commission would establish special rules, designate an agency to deal with the threat, and make decisions on the sale, use and method of disposal of the toxic substance.

Other than its powers in an emergency situation, the commission could at any time require studies and surveys from state departments, public agencies or state universities, and compile data on the safety, testing or distribution of products containing potentially dangerous substances which are sold in the State in this way possibly heading off a future chemical contamination.

Among other things, the new law will set clear and definite responsibility for coordinating state action in event of a toxic substance emergency, increasing the potential for quick and effective response to such an emergency.

Motor vehicles and motor boats can be forms of noise pollution. One new law specifies acceptable noise levels for motor vehicles and provides other measures for vehicle noise reduction. It prohibits the use of a vehicle on a highway or street if it has a defective exhaust system which effects noise reduction.

This replaces an older law which was vague and almost unenforceable. The new law remedies this by providing objective and uniform measurable standards for vehicle noise levels which can be successfully enforced.

Another new law addresses the problem of motorboat noise. It prohibits use of a motor boat without a muffler, underwater exhaust or other modern noise reduction device in good working order. The legislation also sets a uniform speed limit for motorboats on all waters, except the Great Lakes, unless there is already established a lower speed limit.

Weather modification, or rainmaking, can have a definite impact upon the environment. It will be much more closely regulated by a new law. The law regulates all types of weather modification to ensure that only those qualified and permitted actually engage in efforts to change the weather. The legislation prohibits weather modification without a permit and requires the Dept. of Agriculture to set rules to regulate rainmaking activities, establish qualifications for issuing permits and require bookkeeping.

Clothes
intimidate me

By JOYCE HAGELTHORN

Clothes intimidate me. I don't suppose that it is actually the clothes that do it to me, but what happens whenever I have clothes on.

Take for instance a recent weekend. My husband called and asked how long it would take me to be ready to go north on a business-pleasure trip.

Frantically trying to conjure up in my mind just what I had in the closet that was clean, I said probably the rest of the day and that maybe on the morrow I would be reasonably ready.

"I'll give you fifteen minutes; he said and hung up.

As it turned out it was twenty-five minutes, and if only he had told me I was going to have an extra ten minutes, the thing that happened might not have happened.

That evening in a magnificent room of an elegant lodge, I brought out my evening dress and sure enough the same wrinkles that I thought might hang out didn't, but my husband, who didn't even peek from behind the shower curtain, assured me the wrinkles were all in a place that wouldn't be noticed and would I hurry up and get ready.

I slipped the slinky gown over my head and it fell caressingly over my body... isn't that the way it says in novels? Well, don't you believe it!

This gown didn't caress anything. Actually, it screamed all the way down, and when it came time to zip up the zipper, that thing got obstinate and wouldn't budge.

That's when husbands come in handy. With his towel wrapped around him, he braced his foot against my back and tugged. And tugged.

"I wish you would buy clothes that fit," he panted.

"The dress fits," I said indignantly. "It's just that they don't make zippers the way they used to."

"Well, you can't expect a zipper to branch out every time it comes to a lump of fat," he said reasonably enough.

We were only twenty minutes late when the zipper finally zipped and I leaned over my suitcase to get out the evening slippers. Now that was when I knew that I should have had that extra ten minutes, for in that extra ten minutes I surely would have been able to realize that I had packed one slipper of two pairs... and they were both for the same foot.

"Now what am I going to do?" I wailed and pulled the pillow up over my face.

"Well find something," my husband said irritably as he tied the last knot in his Dior tie which was so new it hadn't gotten a spot on it yet.

You would think he would have been heaping praise on me for being so efficient as to have bought the tie for him even before I knew we were going anywhere. But he wasn't.

"Hurry up," he said.

I looked at the shoes in front of me. One pair of sneakers, one pair of golf shoes, a pair of brown wedgies and the mismatched couple, along with my fuzzy-wuzzy bedroom slippers.

So I pulled the fuzzies off the wuzzies and stuck them on my feet. Blissfully I saw that the dress covered them and there was a possibility I would be able to get away with it.

My husband threw my wrap around me and pulled me out in the hall, ignoring my moans of "I feel like a fool..."

"It's all right," he insisted. "Just keep your feet under the table and don't dance."

No one asked me to dance, probably because I kept ducking my head under the table the better to check my wuzzies, and no one seemed to notice, except maybe the waiter, who had to go under a couple of times to retrieve a spoon and a fork.

That is, no one noticed until we were standing in the hall waiting for the elevator at the evening's end, along with the rest of the crowd. That is when my husband grinned and said, "See honey, no one even noticed you had on your bedroom slippers."

And fifty pair of eyes got hung up on those wuzzies without the fuzzies.

On the Brighter Side

Choose to fly

By JIM BRADLEY

"I have written what I have written," snarled Pilate to the detractors of Christ. The wooden board which bore his words hung precariously by a nail, wavering with the agonized writhing of the Son of God. Not only had Pilate written with his hand, but also with his life.

So it is with every man. For every human being is an author who writes a book by his life; each act a paragraph, each year a chapter. Many chapters had been better left blank and paragraphs unwritten.

I came across a stimulating piece of writing by Dean Alfange, entitled: "I Do Not Choose to be a Common Man":

It is my right to be uncommon - if I can. I seek opportunity - not security. I do not wish to be kept citizen, humbled and dulled by having the state look after me.

I want to take the calculated risk; to dream and to build, to fail and to succeed.

I refuse to barter incentive for a dole. I prefer the challenges of life to the guaranteed existence; the thrill of fulfillment to the stale calm of utopia.

I will not trade freedom or beneficence nor my dignity for a handout. I will never cover before any master nor bend to any threat.

It is my heritage to stand erect, proud and unafraid; to think and act for myself, enjoy the benefit of my creations and to face the world boldly and say, this I have done.

ALL THIS IS WHAT IT MEANS TO BE AN AMERICAN.

It seems more and more people today are settling for the "safe" mediocrity than to struggle and work to rise above the commonplace. Faith in God was the security that drove many of the great men of history to achieve their accomplishments. They chose to fly rather than plod in steps where others had trudged.

You can choose the commonplace, or you can aspire to something higher. You can choose to fly. It was this thought that moved me to write recently:

CHOOSE TO FLY

Yon sun's beams move apace to finish destined daily race; 'Til shadows swallow daylight's husk when sunlight dies at dusk.

Each new morn comes, sun awaking chained to solar path it's taking; No struggle to leave destined trend or course, It's circuit fixed by Divine source.

Not so, we mortals free have power to choose what we shall be; To stumble, fall - or rise and climb, We have the power to achieve sublime.

As dark as sky in black of night, or your life can be as morning bright; Choose heavy boots thru life to plod, or choose to fly on wings from God.

When your book of deeds is added to the library of life will it grace or defile the shelf of history? Few manuscripts are handed in like the author planned. Because what we plan to be and what we become is changed by the friends we meet and the habits we acquire.

When you stand before the God of the universe in judgment, what kind of "book review" will you get? The Apostle John writes in Revelation 20:12: "And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God; and the books were opened: and another book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, according to their works." You need to come to Christ, the author and finisher of our faith. He can wipe clean every page of sin in your life. As an unknown poet has written:

THE CLOCK OF LIFE

The clock of life is woud but once, And no man has the power, To tell just when the hand will stop -- At late or early hour.

To lose one's wealth is sad indeed, To lose one's health is more; To lose one's soul is such a loss That no man can restore.

Health Beat

One of those dastardly chores

By RUSS TUTTLE
Director, Community Relations
Peoples Community Hospital Authority

There periodically comes that time in the life of every homeowner when he must tackle one of life's most dastardly chores; to wit, the homeowner must paint a room in his house.

I've just finished that miserable task, and I'm convinced that sackcloth and ashes for 40 days is far preferable.

Now you must understand that I consider myself pretty handy with carpentry, and if it's not too immodest, I've done some very decent woodworking in my time.

But painting — my oh my, that's another story!

We've lived in our house for almost 18 years, and thus I've had ample opportunity to practice the art of painting. And, I'm afraid, much like Bo Schembechler says of his problems in Bowl games, I've just got to keep at it until I finally get it right.

Past experience tells me to clean out the room to be redecorated. And I mean clean it out. There is not one piece of anything left in the room before I start. Switch plates are removed, any holes in the walls spackled (I'm pretty good with spackle, evidently because not a great deal of talent is required to patch small holes), painting gear is brought into the room: in short, all I must do once I get into the room is paint.

The next morning — the preliminaries listed above were accomplished the preceding night — I dressed in my painting clothes and went out to the garage to get my step ladder from the rafters where it's stored.

I was standing on my tip toes wrestling the ladder down when from behind me I heard a loud "Woof".

My next-door neighbors own a beautiful Doberman Pinscher. His name is Red, and he loves to play. I've played with him many times, and I've learned always to keep Red in front of me. You see, he has a cute habit of nipping at one's backside if given the opportunity.

Because I happen to boast a derriere of generous proportions, I immediately assumed that Red had jumped the fence and was heading for my defenseless anatomy. I turned my head quickly to prepare myself for the attack.

In my haste, the ladder slipped from my hands and cracked me on the noggin. "Gosh-a-rooney," I chuckled as I staggered about the garage trying to get my bearings, "isn't this a joke on me."

Red was still on his side of the fence. His bark was only to get my attention and hopefully to get me to come over and play.

I reeled into the house, head throbbing and unprintables uttering from my angry mouth.

Through the kitchen toward the room to be painted. My toe stubbed against the kitchen table and I pitched forward dropping the ladder on my right foot and simultaneously knocking a glass of iced tea from the table to the floor.

"Good God," I yelled, and that was a supplication and not an oath, "I wonder if I'll live to get into the room to paint."

Unfortunately, I made the rest of my voyage without any undue pain being inflicted on my person.

Now where does a man start painting? Well, I thought it best to do the hardest part first, and the hardest part is clearly the small closet. Painting closets is not too difficult if you are 2' 6" tall and weigh 19 pounds. However, if you are 6'2" tall and weigh 240 pounds, you have, or are about to have, a problem.

I worked my bulk, ladder, and painting equipment into the very warm closet and began to slop a bright yellow paint on the closet ceiling. The roller whirled and sprayed paint in all directions. Most of the paint, it seemed, found its way to my arms, my head (upon which I proudly wear my Ace Hardware professional painter's cap), and upon the lenses of my glasses.

In no time I was going strictly by instruments as it was impossible to see. The perspiration had started and that only made me more uncomfortable.

I finished the ceiling and about one quarter of the closet walls. Down off the ladder, pull it out of the way, fill a small coffee can with paint and dash right back into the inferno to finish the rest of the walls.

Well, I wasn't paying too much attention to where I was walking — it's hard to see through paint-splattered glasses — and I ran smack into the clothes hanger pole which runs the length of the bloody closet.

Again my head was cracked, and this time I managed to spill the coffee can right down my front. I lifted my glasses and looked at my considerable belly which was now a delightful yellow; I was reminded of a large, pregnant canary.

The next time, I swore to myself, I'll get some other moron besides the one doing this job to paint for me. I swear that had anyone been watching my machinations they'd have thought they had come in on the third reel of a Laurel and Hardy movie.

But now the labor is finished, and once again I revel in the joys of being a happy homeowner — reveal, that is, until the next time when once again I'll threaten to sell "this +$+&" place and move to an apartment where intelligent human beings don't have to paint."

IT'S A GREAT YEAR FOR DEMOCRATS!

BILL FITZGERALD FOR GOVERNOR

Bill Fitzgerald brings to the Governor's race a life-long commitment to public service, and an outstanding record in the Michigan House of Representatives and the State Senate. Together with Olivia Maynard, our candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, Fitzgerald offers a fresh, new start to get Michigan moving again Fitzgerald/Maynard -- a winning team, a great team -- to make a great state do even better!

ELECT BILL FITZGERALD GOVERNOR AND LIBBY MAYNARD LT. GOVERNOR

CARL LEVIN FOR U.S. SENATE

Michigan needs a full-time U.S. Senator who will vote ... and vote for Michigan! Carl Levin will vote for you ... for programs to help Michigan, to help working people, to help senior citizens, to help small businessmen. Carl Levin understands people's genuine anger with unfair taxes, and he will work for real tax reform ... tax cuts for low- and middle-income working people, not just more loopholes for the wealthy!

WE NEED CARL LEVIN IN THE U.S. SENATE - TO WORK AND VOTE FOR US

RE-ELECT CONGRESSMAN BILL FORD

Michigan's 15th District has one of the most effective and hard-working representatives in Washington -- Congressman Bill Ford ... He has been working, fighting and speaking out for you for nearly 14 years, working his way up the seniority ladder to even greater influence in our nation's capital. He has led the fight in Congress for people programs -- for jobs, education, tax reform and senior citizens!

LET'S KEEP CONGRESSMAN BILL FORD'S STRONG VOICE IN WASHINGTON

A GREAT DEMOCRATIC TEAM

CARL LEVIN FOR U.S. SENATE

WILLIAM B. FITZGERALD OLIVIA P. MAYNARD GOVERNOR/LT. GOVERNOR

WILLIAM D. FORD U.S. CONGRESS

Juchartz picked as president of NACAA

The director of the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service in Wayne County, Donald Juchartz, has been named to head the National Association of County Agricultural Agents (NACAA). Known in the Detroit area since 1973 as the "Garden Doctor" on WWJ-Radio Station, Juchartz lives with his wife Doris on a fresh-market apple farm in Belleville. The Juchartzes have three children.

The distinguished and internationally known horticulturist received both his bachelor and master of science degrees from Michigan State University. He has served 22 years with the MSU Cooperative Extension Service in Wayne County, the third most populous county in the United States.

Rotary District 640 recently chose Juchartz from 2,700 members as their first annual "Outstanding Rotarian of the Year" for best exemplifying the Rotary's "Service Above Self" concept. He has had perfect attendance for 15 years at the Belleville Rotary meetings. Gov. Milliken appointed Juchartz to the $100-million Michigan Land Trust Fund, and he was elected as first chairman. Juchartz committed $6 million for recreational land acquisitions throughout Michigan in September. As NACAA president, he says one of the many programs to which he is committed is professional improvement. In this context, he is dedicated to improving the opportunities for NACAA members to better themselves, adding that he thoroughly endorses the concept of the NACAA Scholarship Fund and expects to see $10,000 per year distributed in scholarships. "Every person has responsibilities to more than himself; he needs to contribute to his family, his profession, his community and his country. He should use his God-given abilities to make life better and more meaningful for others and should take the opportunity to lead and not necessarily be led," Juchartz said. Juchartz, the 61st president of the 5,300-member association, received the NACAA Distinguished Service Award in 1969, was selected for the first Search for Excellence program in 1973, and was the NACAA representative on the Journal of Extension Board of Directors from 1975 to 1977. He served as NACAA vice-president in 1976 and as president-elect in 1977.

WCCC breaks ground for new regional unit

Ceremonies Oct. 30 will mark the start of work on the newest regional center for Wayne County Community College (WCCC).

The groundbreaking will begin at 2 p.m. at the 117-acre site on Haggerty Road in Van Buren Township between the I-94 and I-275 freeways.

The new Western Wayne County Regional Center will cost and estimated $10 million when completed.

"The new regional center is being designed to serve the post-secondary educational needs of citizens residing in this fast-growing area of Western Wayne County," said Dr. Reginald Wilson, president of WCCC.

The facility, one of five new WCCC comprehensive technical and liberal arts centers, will offer a broad range of liberal arts, vocational training, career-oriented and community service programs.

The 144,000-square foot building will house classrooms and administrative and faculty offices, as well as a library, bookstore and child care facility. Also included, will be vocational and technical laboratory space, a green house and special facilities for electronics, avionics and building trades.

"We're very excited about the many educational opportunities this new regional center will bring to the residents of Western Wayne County," said John S. Szwec, director of WCCC's western region. "It will enable WCCC to expand and improve the programs now being offered in our existing satellite centers at Milton Middle and John Glenn High schools. These centers will remain an important part of the Western Regional Center."

WCCC's new Western Regional Center is part of the county-wide WCCC system. The facility is part of Phase II of a long range master plan and Capital Outlay Program begun in 1974 with the sale of $39.7 million in construction bonds.

Phase I of the master plan includes a new Downriver Regional Center now open in Taylor and a new Downtown Regional Center nearing completion on the riverfront in Detroit.

Participating in the groundbreaking ceremony for the Western Regional Center Oct. 30 will be local and college officials, as well as members of the community.

Colors bedeck state

Michigan's 19 million acres of forestland are showing their colors as they make their annual transition from summer green to shades of autumn.

The seasonal spectacular seems to generate a magnetic force attracting native and visitor alike to the rainbowed highways, byways and pathways for a closer look at nature's handiwork. The Travel Bureau of the Michigan Department of Commerce, offers a free Autumn Color Tour Guide to assist you in following the course of the changing leaves throughout the state.

The season is a delightful time for camping, weekend picnics and winer roasts — for browsing craft and antique shops and sipping cider fresh from the press. Michigan cider mills — and there are close to 100 — are favorite stops for fall color tourists. The Franklin Mill at Franklin, for example, sports a huge water wheel that still turns, and is approaching its 150th birthday. It also is a national historic site. The Parmenter Mill at Northville has an old fashioned store with shopping surprises and Uncle John's Cider Mill at St. Johns takes you back to the days of pitcher pump sinks and pot bellied stoves.

Popular attractions such as Tahquamenon Falls, the Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore, Kalamazoo Nature Center and Greenfield Village are particularly beautiful this time of year. State Parks and favorite spots are less congested and accommodations are much easier to come by.

Fall also is prime time for fishing as (Continued on Page A-11)

Mayor LeCesne urges yes vote on Proposal M

Mayor LeCesne of Inkster is urging the voters to support proposal M which will appear on the state-wide ballot Nov. 7.

Proposal M will allocate at least 90 percent of gas and vehicle license taxes for municipal street, county road, and state highway maintenance and improvement.

"It will guarantee a fair allocation of road user taxes to help meet road, street, and bridge needs", Mayor LeCesne said. "It also will provide a sound basis for financing other forms of comprehensive transportation in all areas of the state."

Comprehensive transportation services include the state's railroad network, municipal bus systems and public transportation such as dial-a-ride services for senior citizens and handicapped persons, airports, water ports and ferries.

Proposal M allows the legislature to allocate up to 10 percent of road user taxes and the state's share of the sales tax on cars, tires, and automotive parts for comprehensive transportation purposes.

"It will not change the allocation of the school aid and local government shares of the sales tax, however," LeCesne said. "The city will continue to get our share of the sales tax through state revenue sharing. Proposal M only affects the present state share of the sales tax."

"If Proposal M is not approved by the voters on November 7, the legislature could divert all of the highway user tax revenue away from meeting road and street aids."

"If that were to happen, our streets would be in even worse shape. Our only alternative would be to increase local property taxes to help meet our street maintenance needs," he said. "Voter approval of Proposal M will guarantee that we will continue to get our fair share of the state gasoline and vehicle taxes for our street programs."

"Proposal M is good for Michigan's road and street programs and for public transportation programs also."

Miss Houle named to Foundation

Senior Terri Houle, the daughter of Lila Houle of Romulus, is a 1978-79 member of Central Michigan University's Student Foundation. Foundation members act as liaisons with the campus community and the media and help promote public support for Central Michigan.

Their activities include speaking and giving slide presentations for community and campus organizations, guiding visitors around the campus and conducting community service projects. In other college news: William Van Scyoc, the son of Mr.

and Mrs. Lester Van Scyoc of Inkster Road, Romulus, has been named as a recipient of the awards through the military science department at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo.

Van Scyoc, a senior, received the summer camp award for physical proficiency. The award was in recognition of his past leadership and academic performance and for superior proficiency in the ROTC camp this past summer.

Two Belleville collegians recently appeared with internationally acclaimed cellist Fritz Magg in concert at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo.

Performing with Magg as members of the University Symphony Orchestra were Troy K. Green, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Green of Ecorse Road, and Kathleen Bassett of Harmony Lane, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bassett.

The concert was held Oct. 8.

Debra Zilka, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milvin R. Zilka of Eureka Road, Romulus, was among more than 400 students admitted to the Freshman Class of 1982 at Kalamazoo College.

Church shows film

Questions such as why should we pray, how should we pray, for what should we pray and what is an unanswered prayer have been asked by man since God first spoke to him.

For far too long prayer has been overlooked as a subject for a definite film study, but now ECRF Films presents its newest release, "The Power of Prayer", which will be shown at 7 p.m. Sunday at Calvary Baptist Church, 11338 Ozga Road, Romulus.

The opening moments of the film are spent in Israel, examining thousands of years of Jewish history and how they pertain to prayer.

The film also features some of the most well-respected Christian spokesmen in America, such as Dr. W. A. Criswell, Dr. John F. Walvoord, Josh and Dottie McDowell, Chaplain Ray and Dr. and Mrs. Howard Hendricks.

These men and women share what the Bible says as to the how and why of prayer. They also share their own personal experiences of the times of victory, frustration and confusion in the film.

The public is invited to see this showing of "Power of Prayer".

salmon, steelhead and brown trout move into Michigan's rivers and anglers are seldom disappointed. October is the month for partridge and pheasant and bow and arrow hunters. Roadside stands offer red cheeked apples, plump pumpkins, squash and Indian corn. And, there are harvest festivals, hobby and craft shows, bazaars and flea markets to attend.

From the first tinge of color until the last leaf falls autumn in Michigan is a fantastic season to be enjoyed and explored by all ages. Try it yourself...right now.

Wayne Arche Club: Still on the go at 75

By KAY DeBORD

Looking back on 75 years of continuous programs is the Wayne Arche Club, which marked that anniversary on Oct. 10 at a dinner meeting at the First Congregational Church of Wayne.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Estelle Bunting, whose name is a familiar one in the archives of the Wayne Historical Museum, 15 ladies assembled in 1903 at the home of Mrs. W.C. Prouty, (also a familiar name in the area) to organize a club titled "Arche" (or "beginning").

The club's programs have continued through many phases of world and community change, but through adaption to the needs of the time and interest, it has maintained a membership whose roster includes women of many talents, interests and services, but who share in a common interest in personal growth.

The original meetings, dedicated to study and discussion, were held weekly for 25 years. Then, with the start of World War I, the members of Arche put aside personal interests and devoted their time to the work of war relief. At the close of the war, once again the club programs returned to the pursuit of learning.

According to the club yearbook, the 1920's were marked by the study of current events and parliamentary law and featured noted speakers. The 1920s also marked the establishment of the Clara Hosie Student Loan Fund, now known as the Clara Hosie Scholarship Fund at Eastern Michigan University.

Book reviews, guest lecturers and a variety of studies filled the programs during the 1930s and 1940s. The club also went dramatic in the latter years, taking part in and staging more than 20 one-act plays.

Still gearing to the interests of the members, programs featured such 1950s' and 1960s' subjects as "Leisure time—its uses and problems", "today's fabrics", "handwriting analysis", and "Women are people too."

Reflecting still more change, with the 1970s, topics of interest featured on programs included ecology and metric conversion. The 1970s also saw the initiation of a service project held in November, when members make Christmas items for the sick and needy.

The original officers for Arche, 75 years ago, were Mrs. J.R. Hosie, president, Mrs. Delia Wentworth, vice-president, and Ida Collar, secretary.

In 1978, Arche, which now meets on a monthly basis, has as its anniversary year officers Eileen Rowland, president, Dora Beecher, first vice-president, Judy Edwards, second vice-president, Helen Kendall, recording secretary, Arlene Krugler, corresponding secretary, Mary McGowan, treasurer, and Mildred Harris, historian. The members-at-large are Bethel Taylor, Dolores Martin and Marilyn Belvitch.

A testimony to success and longevity of the club and its maintenance of the interest of its members is the fact that in its 75th year, the club has 21 life members. To qualify for this, the member must have been an Arche member in good standing for 35 years.

Life members, exempt from dues, are Mrs. P.D. Graham, Mrs. Andrew Gahan, Mrs. Donald Hanchett, Mrs. Mildred Harris, Mrs. Harold Hilliard, Mrs. Beverly Hisey, Mrs. Benjamin Jones, Mrs. Virgil Krueger, Mrs. Harold Langworthy, Mrs. Roy Meier and Mrs. Floyd Neel.

Also, Mrs. Russell Parr, Mrs. Thomas Russell, Mrs. Harold Schueller, Mrs. Chester Smith, Mrs. Norman Stockmeyer, Mrs. S.R. Wotring and Mrs. Malcolm Petty.

New officers

The Wayne Arche Club has turned 75, and its format, like its officers is continuing to change. Heading up the organization during its diamond jubilee year will be Mrs. Ellen Rowland as president (from left), Mrs. Dora Beecher as first vice-president, Judy Edwards as second

Life members

HAP: Family reunification heads of potential run-away

The same agency that operates the Counterpoint runaway shelter in Inkster, has a new program that hopes to deal with family trouble before a young person feels his only alternative is to run away.

The Home Attention Program (HAP) places emphasis on treatment in a home setting, an idea consistent with the goal of family reunification.

"We now have counselors who go into homes of young people who, along with their family, have indicated willingness to work with us to prevent escalating family disruption," said Barbara Bergman, community education coordinator of Out Wayne County Youth Services Coalition.

The coalition provides services for young persons in much of the Western Wayne County area.

Counterpoint is a runaway shelter on Inkster Road (located in the former St. Norbert's convent) where young people can seek temporary shelter, up to two weeks, and counseling. Another service of the Out Wayne County Youth Services Coalition is foster care licensing and placement, and a status offender alternative program.

While those programs offer help to youngsters who have left or are leaving home, this new program steps in before such a drastic move.

There are several ways that a young person gets into the Home Attention Program.

The simplest is that the family itself requests the service, just as families often come to Counterpoint requesting counseling.

Sometimes, youngsters are referred to the program through diversionary action by police or referral by court workers, prior to formal intake of the Wayne County Juvenile Court.

Sometimes, counselors at Counterpoint suggest that the youth enroll with his or her parents in the program.

"This is especially important because for some time Counterpoint staff has felt that many problem situations they see could be solved with the young person remaining at home, but we lacked the staff to put into the field," said Ms. Bergman.

"Now with HAP, more young people will be able to remain at home, school and job, while counselors work with them and their families on issues which threaten family unity."

Teachers, school counselors, social workers or staff members of other agencies, as well as other interested adults, are encouraged to make referrals to the HAP, as well as to Counterpoint runaway shelter.

Supervisor of the program is Harold Chadwick. He can be reached at 427-6670 during business hours, or 563-5005 after hours, for both program information and for intake.

Like Counterpoint, services of the program are available on a 24-hour basis, seven days a week.

There are three counselors in the program.

Participation on the part of young people and their families is voluntary.

Cobbelstone Farm hosts rug display

Elegant examples of rug hooking, an authentic American craft, will be on display Sunday, from 1 to 5 p.m., at Ann Arbor's historic homestead, Cobbelstone Farm. In addition to demonstrations of their craft, members of the Ann Arbor and Southern Michigan chapters of the Pearl K. McGown Rug Hookcrafters Guild will display their handwork which ranges from pillow tops to wall hangings and room-size rugs.

Among the participants in the show is Carol Bogden of Romulus.

Rug hooking, in colonial times, was a means of using scraps of wool fabric by hooking them into pieces of burlap to make rugs. It has developed into a fine art in which flowers and fruit as well as geometric designs and complex scenes are depicted through subtle shading of color and the use of fine wool cloth and canvases. Each room of Cobbelstone Farm will feature costumed hostesses, explaining this truly American technique and discussing the examples on display.

Ample parking is available at the farm, which is on Packard Street in Ann Arbor, between Platt Road and Eisenhower Boulevard. Coffee and cookies will be served. There is no admission charge, but donations are accepted.

Wheat germ granary bread: Best in taste and texture

Good looking wheat germ granary bread is a feast for the eye as well as the palate. The best characteristics in taste and texture are combined in this original new recipe. The flavor is full and robust yet the texture is remarkably light.

As bakers know, the kind of liquid used in bread making influences the final product. In this case, the recipe calls for dark beer. The extra malt in the dark beer reacts with the yeast to form more bubbles in the dough as it rises, hence the fabulous texture. And of course, the flavor is enhanced by regular wheat germ combined with both whole wheat flour and all purpose flour.

The attractive shape of the loaf is made by forming the dough into a braid and baking in a spring form pan. You can see the beautiful results when the hot loaf is turned out of the pan. It makes a superb "bread and butter" snack. All menus benefit, too, from the variety, character and extra nutrition contributed by this outstanding wheat germ bread.

WHEAT GERM GRANARY BREAD

2 packages active dry yeast
½ cup warm water (105 to 115 degrees)
¼ cup brown sugar (packed)
1 egg, slightly beaten
3 tablespoons melted butter

1½ teaspoons salt
1 cup dark beer, room temperature (no foam)
1 cup vacuum packed wheat germ, regular
2 cups stone ground whole wheat or graham flour
1½ to 2 cups all purpose flour
Egg Wash

Dissolve yeast in warm water in large bowl. Stir in brown sugar, egg, butter, salt and beer. Stir in wheat germ and whole wheat flour. Stir in just enough all purpose flour, about 1½ cups, to make a soft dough which leaves sides of bowl. Turn out onto floured surface. Knead 5 to 10 minutes or until dough is smooth and elastic. Place dough in greased bowl turning to coat all sides. Cover and let rise in warm draft free place 1½ to 2 hours until doubled. Punch down. Divide dough into 3 equal parts. Shape each piece into a 16-inch rope. Braid ropes together. Form braid into ring and seal ends. Place in greased 9-inch springform or layer pan. Brush top with Egg Wash. Cover loosely with plastic wrap. Let rise in warm place 1 to 1½ hours until doubled. Bake in 350 degree oven 40 to 45 minutes or until done. Cover loosely with foil or brown paper last 5 to 10 minutes, if crust browns too quickly. Remove from pan immediately. Cool on rack. Makes 1 loaf.

EGG WASH: Beat 1 egg with 1 tablespoon water.

Higgins host English visitors

MRS. JOSEPH SPRING
697-4021

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Higgins and family — Natalie, Kyle and Lydia — of McKinley, Belleville, had English visitors Oct. 8-11.

Mrs. Anne Sidaway, Frances Waever of Stourbridge and Mrs. Barbara Woodman of Worchesterhire, England, were the visitors.

They were in the United States for a three-week visit with Mrs. Dorothy Smith, formerly of Romulus and now living in Indianapolis, Ind. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sullivan of East Toledo, Ohio, on their way to Michigan.

High points of their visit were the Indianapolis Speedway and the Keystone at the Crossing in Indiana, Niagra Falls, Canada, and The Fairlane Towne Center and lunch at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Dearborn.

It was good hunting for Herb Mida and his son Bill of Robson Road and Frank Reinhackel of Haggerty Road, who left Sept. 28 for an antelope hunting trip in Wyoming. They all got their quota during the hunt.

Bill brought back the trophy of the group. His antelope had horns measuring 14 inches.

They returned home Oct. 5 safe and sound, despite a scary experience on the expressway in Chicago, Ill., during rush hour. The tongue on the trailer they were pulling broke. Bill, however, was able to stop both the car and trailer safely, even though only the electrical connections for the lights were holding the two together.

Andrew James Dodge, 16, the son of Stewart and Patsy Dodge of Liberty Street, Belleville, was admitted to Wayne County General Hospital Oct. 12, for appendicitis. Andy is an 11th grader at Belleville High School and works at the Red Apple Restaurant.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hollar of East Huron River Drive returned home last week after having spent some time visiting relatives at Eldon, Kansas City and St. Joseph, Mo. Enroute each way they visited their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gies at Springfield, Ill.

Life saver

Proudly displayed is the newest addition to the Neonatology Department at Wayne County General Hospital. A tiny water bed for the use of premature infants is the gift of the Livonia Kiwanis Club after they heard of the need. The waterbed, when hooked to a respirator, can help stabilize the infant's breathing and heart rate. The presentation was made by Dick Stolkfisz (left), president of the Livonia club, and accepted on behalf of the department by Dr. Mary Boczynski, co-director of the department. Also on hand for the presentation were Hal Schoen, vice-president, and George Cherry, president-elect of the Livonia Kiwanis Club. — ANP photo.

Club aids hospital

Premature infants rest easy on tiny water beds

The tiniest of water beds is a recent contribution toward the care of premature infants in the Neonatology Department at Wayne County General Hospital.

The water bed, the gift of the Livonia Kiwanis Club, was a service project on the part of the club after hearing about the vital need.

Recent studies have shown that when waterbeds are hooked to a respirator that raises and lowers the bed six to seven times per minute, the motion helps keep the premature infant's heart and breathing stable.

The premature infant is very susceptible to breathing and heart complications, and it is felt that the use of the waterbed can not only help in these areas, but prevent the complications of a long hospital stay on a hard mattress, such as a misshapen head and bed sores.

The Livonia club also assured Dr. Mary Boczynski, Co-director of the department, that if additional beds are needed, members have already agreed to purchase six to 12 additional waterbeds for the use and care of premature infants.

Literary Club members hear representative of RC

Following the theme of "Women and Health," the Wayne Ladies Literary Club membership heard Mrs. Mary Lee Leimbach of the Red Cross in a discussion of the Red Cross programs and services at the October meeting.

The members met at the Wayne home of Marilyn Archambault. Program chairman for the evening was Phyllis Mulholland. Co-hostesses for the meeting were Marilyn Biggerstaff, chairman, Genevieve Aigeltinger and Shelby Szukaitis. Refreshment committee members were Susan Barnhill, chairman, Caryl Basel, Jaynie Nichols and Martha Raub.

The September meeting which opened the club's 82nd year, was held at the China Star Palace in Westland. Featured on the program was Robert Edick, an assistant prosecuting attorney from the office of the Wayne County Prosecuting Attorney. He was introduced by the program chairman for the evening, Mary Tooze, and spoke on some facets of the law of interest to women.

Treat your family to some 'Neat Joes'

Are your kids the real sloppy joe lovers? They love that spice tart flavor of those special sandwiches. Well, why not take the "mess" out of sloppy joes and try "Neat Joes".

According to Retha M. Hankey, director of food service and home economics for the Michigan Beef Industry Commission, "Neat Joes" offer one more good way to put ground beef between bun halves. A package of seasoning mix simplifies preparation and gives the new Neat Joes the same great flavor of the original Sloppy, with the added advantage of ease of eating.

"Your children are sure to enjoy these plump beefburgers that have the popular flavor punch," she said.

NEAT JOES

Combine 1 package (approximately 1 1/2 ounces) Sloppy Joe mix with 1 can (6 ozs.) tomato paste, 3/4 cup water and 1/2 teaspoon salt in saucepan and cook slowly, stirring occasionally, until thickened. Cool. Add 3/4 cup of the sauce to 2-2 1/2 pounds ground beef and mix lightly to combine thoroughly. Shape into 6-8 patties (4 inches in diameter) and place on rack in broiler pan (or on grill over ash-covered coals) so surface of meat is 3-4 inches from the heat.

Broil 6-7 minutes; turn and broil 6-8 minutes, to doneness desired. Place burgers on bottom halves of 6-8 hamburger buns and top each with spoonful of remaining sauce. Cover with bun tops. Makes 6 - 8 servings.

...Shannon Joan Flaherty

Flaherty-Pellecchia exchange 'I do's' in Irish Hills rite

The Irish Hills in autumn colors provided the backdrop for the Sept. 28 nuptials of Shannon Joan Flaherty and Mark Anthony Pellecchia, both of Belleville.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Hazel Flaherty of Mantiou Beach and the late Ben Flaherty. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Pasquale Pellecchia of Lilac Lane, Belleville.

The early evening ceremony was held at St. Joseph's Shrine in the Irish Hills and was officiated by The Rev. William McKeon.

The bride asked her sister, Maggie Flaherty, to serve as maid of honor. The bridesmaid was Lisa Pellecchia, sister of the groom.

The groom asked his brother, Pat Pellecchia to serve as best man, while the groomsman was William Calvin. The ringbearer was Chris Pyne.

Following the ceremony, a reception for the couple and their 100 guests was held at Bauer Manor in the Irish Hills.

The new Mrs. Pellecchia is a graduate of Blissfield High School. She attended St. Mary's College in Notre Dame, Ind., and Sienna Heights College in Adrian, Mich. She is associated with the Gantos Store in Briarwood Mall, Ann Arbor.

Her husband is a graduate of Belleville High School and Eastern Michigan University. He teaches junior high school within the Van Buren Public School system.

Callers Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Boldt of Roland Street were relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Bryan and children from Sherwood, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gubaci of Willis Road were called to Rock Island, N.Y., by the serious illness of the formers' sister, Mrs. Alan Haywood.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Benjamin of Fowlerville and the formers' sister, Mrs. Muriel Smith of Liberty Street returned on Wednesday of last week from Roxbury, Conn., where they had been guests for a week of Mrs. M.F. Marshall, and family.

Mrs. Harold Klaiss of River Rouge was a guest last Sunday of her friend, Mrs. Clayton Saunders of Liberty Street. In the evening the latter's son, Lynn, flew in to help his mother celebrate her birthday.

Mrs. Lyle Cubberly of Ypsilanti was an overnight guest Tuesday of her sister, Mrs. Leon Boldt of Roland Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Seaman of Savage Road returned home last weekend from a 10-day trip to Philadelphia, Pa., and a few days in northern Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clayton of Bedell Street were dinner guests last Sunday of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Munce, and family of Brighton.

Dale Maki of Columbus, Ohio, and friend, Pat McPherson of West Lafayette, Ohio, were weekend guests of the formers' parents, the George Makis of Quirk Rd.

Mrs. Florence Haviland and Grayson East of Detroit, Mrs. Henry Sager of West Columbia Avenue and Velma Kulzer of Liberty Street enjoyed dinner together at Howard Johnsons last Thursday.

WHAT OFFICIAL INFORMATION ABOUT ME MIGHT I EVER NEED?

When accurate information is needed to fill out forms and announcements, it is often hard to locate or remember. You need all sorts of information when you marry, buy insurance, apply for credit or a job, and, yes, even when death occurs.

It is wise to prepare such a total record now and keep it in a safe place...not in a safety deposit box because they are usually locked until after the funeral, but rather in a locked drawer of your desk. Do, however, inform your spouse of where this information may be found.

Information most often needed includes: 1) full name, address, Social Security number, armed forces serial number, 2) birthdate and place, 3) blood type, 4) employer records, 5) name of father's and mother's birthplace and date, 6) names of organizations and publications to be notified, 7) location of important documents, 8) any special funeral preferences or pre-arrangements, 9) pre-arranged donation of eyes or body organs, 10) names and addresses of all persons to be notified of your death.

BELLEVILLE — Weight Watchers conducts two classes each week at Trinity Episcopal Church at the corner of Belleville Road and Venetian Avenue. The first session is a 5 p.m. and the other at 7:30 p.m. each Thursday. Weigh-in is a half hour before each meeting. Call 662-6566 for further information.

BELLEVILLE — Bingo parties are held each Wednesday at St. Anthony's Parish. The weekly sessions begin at 6:30 p.m. in the Foltz Building behind the church on West Columbia Avenue. The public is invited to attend.

BELLEVILLE — The TOPS Club of Belleville (Taking Off Pounds Sensibly) meets every Wednesday at the Belleville United Presbyterian Church, 11900 Belleville Road. Weigh-ins begin at 6:45 p.m. and meetings to 8 p.m.

EDITOR'S NOTE: It's a Date is open to all local nonprofit organizations free of charge. Information for the column should be submitted by phone or mail by the Thursday before the issue in which it is to appear. Call Surban Living Editor Lee Smith at 697-9191 or mail information to 116 Fourth St., Belleville 48111. Items must be received by 2 p.m. Thursdays and will be repeated until outdated.

WCC offers four-part seminar on bereavement, dinner series

Two unique programs offered by Washtenaw Community College will begin Friday night. One is a four-session seminar focusing on bereavement. The other is a project of the Culinary Arts Department, which will offer a series of four special meals.

The seminar on bereavement will teach the stages of loss and grief, and discuss practical solutions for coping with loss.

It is co-sponsored by Eastern Michigan University and the Washtenaw Community College.

The seminar is from 7 to 9 p.m. on four consecutive Fridays beginning this week (Oct. 27), and will be held in Room 1707 of the Student Center Building of the community college, 4800 East Huron River Drive.

The fee is $18, but in-district senior citizens are invited to attend at no charge.

Register in advance by calling 482-2230.

The class should be of specific interest to widows and widowers, others who have suffered a loss, or professionals who deal with bereaved persons.

The dinner series also begins Friday night and is open to the public. Tickets are $7.50, and information on tickets is available by calling 973-3584.

Friday's dinner will be prime rib, the second on Dec. 8 will feature an international buffet, on Feb. 9 a French cuisine, and on April 13 a seafood buffet.

Dinners will be served in the Culinary Arts dining room in the Student Center Building of the college, 4800 East Huron River Drive.

Area residents are reminded that the Culinary Arts Department also manages a lunch program open to the public Monday through Thursday from 11:30 a.m. until 12:45 p.m. The mid-day meals are part of the instructional program for students in restaurant management and food service.

Area births

The color is pink again at the home of Dave and Debbie Webster, of Jackson Street in Belleville.

Mrs. Webster gave birth to the couple's second daughter Oct. 6 at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne.

The infant was born at 7:29 p.m., weighing 8 lbs. 3 and 3/4 ozs., and measuring 20 1/2 inches.

Her older sister is Jo Ellen, 2.

Also celebrating the blessed event are the baby's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Webster of Belleville.

Brian and Cindy Waddell Sr. are telling everyone that it's a boy, following the birth Oct. 10 of their first child.

The newest Waddell, Brian Scott Jr., was born at 7:57 p.m. at Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti. He weighed 7 lbs. 4 ozs. and measured 20 inches in length.

The Waddells make their home on Elwell Road in Belleville. His mother is the former Cindy Sliwa.

The happy grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sliwa Jr. of Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pinette of Belleville and Gene Waddell of California.

The great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sliwa Sr. of Belleville, Mrs. Vera Waddell of Belleville, Mrs. Alma M. Mering of Belleville, Frank Armatas of Belleville.

There also is a great-grandmother, Mrs. Mary Sliwa of Belleville.

MR. AND MRS. RANDALL P. KEMPf

Wedding vows are exchanged between Roxanne Lee Bailey of Belleville and Randall P. Kempf of Ann Arbor, at a small ceremony Sept. 16.

Officiating at the nuptials was Belleville Mayor Justin Emerson.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Lee Bailey of Edward Street in Belleville. The groom's parents are Dr. Paul R. Kempf of Encino, Calif., and the late Jean Lea Kempf.

The new Mrs. Kempf is a 1975 graduate of Belleville High School. She attends Eastern Michigan University and is employed by Rosebalm Aviation, Inc., at Willow Run Airport.

Her husband, a 1974 graduate of Arizona State University, is employed by Hughes Air West as a flight officer.

The newlyweds plan to make their home out West at the beginning of the year.

Garden Club tours park

A color tour of Kensington Park and visit to the park's nature center highlighted the October meeting of the Huron Valley Garden Club.

Club members first motored to Brighton to visit the Canopy Restaurant for lunch.

There they held the business meeting, conducted by club President Eunice Kause.

On hand for the luncheon meeting were 13 regular members, plus an out-of-town guest, Mrs. Bessie Keyser.

The November meeting will be held at the home of Kathy Rennell. Following a sandwich lunch, the group will make holiday table centerpieces.

Ability to play a musical instrument can be a great social asset. Are you in school? Try playing in the school band or orchestra, or play in a group of your own with friends. At the same time, consider doing some solo performances, either for fun or compensation. If you are older, consider performing professionally, full or part time. Don't rule out playing with or for a group of friends just for fun. There are many occasions and opportunities to meet and make new friends through music.

There's nothing like a piano or organ purchased from DOUG BROWN MUSIC, 9219 S. Wayne Rd., Romulus, 941-8484 to help you relax and unwind after a busy day. TRAVELER'S CHECKS ABROAD

Is there a best way to take money on a foreign trip? Yes - traveler's checks for two important reasons: safety and convertibility.

You don't stand any loss if the checks are lost or stolen and you can readily obtain local currency in exchange for traveler's checks at just about any stop on your route from airport, to hotel to small shop.

Traveler's checks must be signed by you in the presence of the person cashing them - and your signature must match the one you wrote at the time you bought the checks. The cost of the checks is about one percent of the purchase ($1 for $100 worth of checks).

Abroad, it's best to cash your traveler's checks at a bank or a branch office of the issuing organization. Banks usually stick to the official exchange rate and don't charge you for converting into local currency, or at least, a nominal fee. Some shops and hotels charge a service fee for cashing checks and some airport counters are known to be competitive with local banks.

Cooking for two?

Why not let plums come to the rescue

Delicious, fresh California plums make creating meals for two a lot more fun. Available this month, fresh plums, with their sweet-tart tangy flavor, bring out the best in meats and poultry, make spectacular salads and, of course, are a natural for desserts. They're so versatile! And freezing fresh plums now will let you enjoy their versatility year-round. It's so easy to freeze fresh plums, too. Just cut plums in halves or quarters. Add about 1 cup sugar per quart of fruit, plus ¼ teaspoon ascorbic acid mixture to retain that lovely plum color. Or, if you wish, simply wash and prick whole plums and freeze as is for a wintry diet conscious treat! Properly stored frozen plums will keep up to a year.

Whether freezing fresh plums for later or enjoying them now in favorite recipes or for refreshing snacks, be sure to select ripe, good quality plums.

Choose plums that are firm and full-colored for the variety. A slightly soft tip is a good indication of ripeness. Refrigerate ripe plums to keep them fresh and good for several days.

And that very special plum tang is what makes these plum muffins special, too. A rich batter is topped with a cinnamon and sugar mixture and a juicy plum wedge or two. Serve them piping hot with our Sacramento Fruit Bowl Salad for a delightful Sunday brunch for two, or as an accompaniment to a light autumn meal. The salad is chock full of bright, ripe summer fruits and crowned with a zesty lime and yogurt dressing.

For more exciting ways to use and serve fresh California fruits this fall, write for a free, illustrated 48-page recipe booklet. Send a stamped, self-addressed, business-size envelope to P.O. Box 255627, Sacramento, Calif. 95825.

SACRAMENTO FRUIT BOWL

Lime Dressing (recipe follows)

Plum Muffins (recipe follows)

½ pound fresh California plums (about 3 medium), quartered

1 fresh California peach, quartered
1 fresh California nectarine, quartered
½ cup melon balls
2 clusters seedless California grapes
1 tablespoon lime juice
Salad greens

Prepare dressing and muffins, as directed below. Put fruits in bowl. Drizzle lime juice over fruits, then arrange on 2 salad plates, lined with greens. Serve with hot muffins and pass dressing alongside, in small bowl.

Makes 2 servings (and enough extra muffins to freeze for another occasion).

LIME DRESSING

¼ cup plain yogurt
1 teaspoon fresh grated lime peel
1 tablespoon lime juice
2 teaspoons sugar
½ teaspoon tarragon
¼ cup whipping cream, whipped
In small bowl, combine yogurt, lime peel and juice, sugar and tarragon. Fold in whipped cream. Dressing can be refrigerated in covered container 2 to 3 days. Makes about ¾ cup.

FRESH PLUM MUFFINS

¾ pound fresh California plums (about 5 medium), sliced

¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
¼ cup butter or margarine, softened
¼ cup honey
1 egg
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder

½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon baking soda
½ cup toasted wheat germ
2 tablespoons cinnamon-sugar mixture

In saucepan, combine sliced plums and sugar, stirring until juices flow. Bring to full boil, stirring. Drain off juice to measure ½ cup. Set aside. In mixing bowl, whisk butter and honey together, then egg. Add plum juice and orange peel. Sift together dry ingredients; stir into mixture along with wheat germ. Mix only until moistened. Spoon into paper-lined muffin cups. Top each with sprinkling of cinnamon-sugar and two or three poached plum slices. Bake in 375-degree oven 20 minutes. Serve hot, with butter. Makes 12 muffins.

Plum yummy

Tangy, fresh California plums are in season throughout the month and can be a special and perfect accompaniment for a salad for two. Try tender plum muffins along with a savory fruit salad, topped with lime and yogurt dressing, for the perfect brunch for two. You'll find out why its plum yummy.

New Brubeck Quartet to present two concerts at Music Hall Center

The New Brubeck Quartet will make its Music Hall debut on Oct. 13 when jazz great Dave Brubeck and his three sons, Darius, Chris and Dan, open a two-day Detroit stand.

Dave Brubeck, one of the top piano stars on the jazz scene for more than 30 years, formed the original Dave Brubeck Quartet in 1951, and that group topped the jazz polls and record charts for the next 17 years. Now, after a hiatus during which he enjoyed the time to compose and to perform with symphony orchestras around the world, Dave has reformed the quartet, this time joined by his three talented sons.

Much more than a family act, the new group is the coming together of four extremely talented and experienced musicians. Darius, Chris and Dan have each led their own bands and each has recorded independently.

Every reviewer who has heard the new quartet has commented on the Brubeck family's "energetic enthusiasm" and the "fun they seem to have playing together." They also praised the group for its new "with-it" sound and reported that even old Brubeck classics such as "Take Five" and "Blue Rondo a la Turk" have an entirely different flavor with Darius on the ARP synthesizer, Chris on electric bass and Danny on drums.

Jazz a la Brubeck now means that symphonic sounds mingle with those of rock; improvisations are built on rhythms that vary from Latin to boogie woogie; and musical content is taken from the Middle East, Duke Ellington and from wherever else the inquisitive family decides to explore.

The New Brubeck Quartet comes to Detroit with the overwhelming stamp of approval from such sophisticated audiences as those at the Newport-New York Jazz Festival, Le Grand Parade du Jazz on the French Riviera and the prestigious Montreux International Festival. So inspired was their concert in Switzerland that six cuts from that festival comprise their new "Live at Montreux" album that is already climbing on the jazz album charts.

Dave Brubeck was the first modern jazzman on the cover of Time (1954); he recorded the first jazz single to sell a million copies ("Take Five" 1963); and he was the first jazz artist to perform at a state function at the White House.

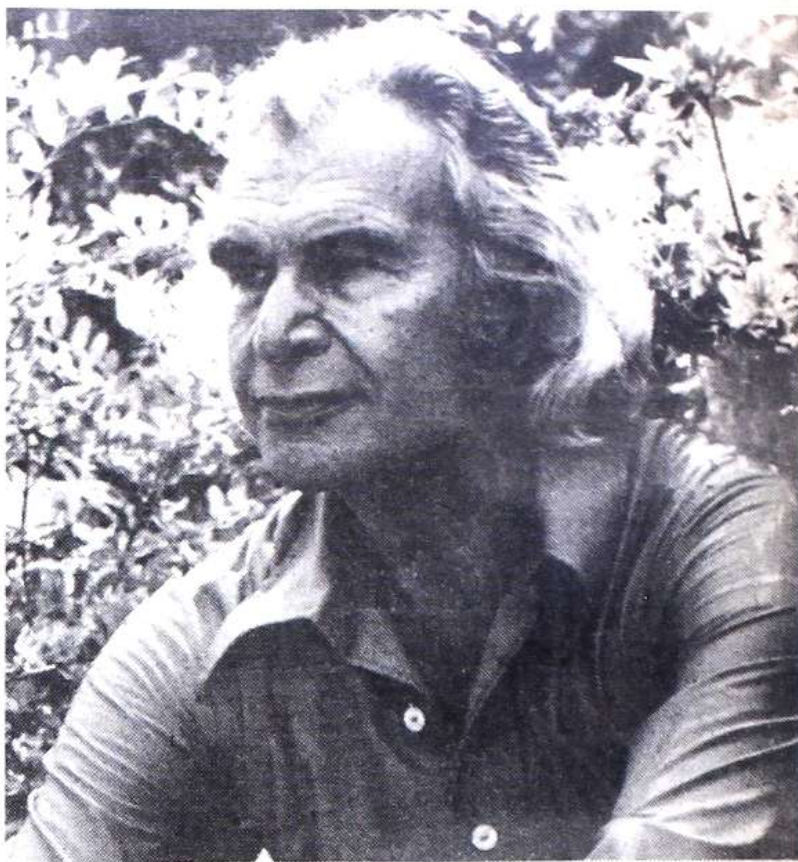

Both Chris and Dan attended the Interlochen Arts Academy in Michigan, and Chris also attended the University of Michigan.

Darius was born in June 1947. He is a cum laude graduate in Ethnic Music and Oriental Philosophy from Wesleyan University and also studied under his namesake, composer Darius Milhaud. In the quartet he plays electric keyboard and the ARP synthesizer.

Chris Brubeck was born in March 1952. He graduated from the Interlochen Arts Academy with a performance major in Trombone. In the quartet he also plays electric bass.

Dan Brubeck was born in May 1955. He studied percussion instruments at Interlochen, North Carolina School of the Arts and at Berklee College of Music in Boston. Dan performed with his father and Darius before forming his own mainstream jazz group, "Northwing."

The New Brubeck Quartet concerts at the Music Hall will be Oct. 13 and 14, each at 8:30 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the Music Hall box office at 350 Madison Avenue. Box office hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

DAVE BRUBECK

State-wide events premiere the coming holiday season

November is the month when Jack Frost does some serious nipping at noses, turkeys get nervous and Santa Claus arrives in grand style to open the holiday season, according to the Travel Bureau of the Michigan Department of Commerce.

Hudson's Thanksgiving Day Parade has become a tradition not only to Michiganders, but also to millions of television viewers across the country. This year's "turkey day" extravaganza (Nov. 23), will include a giant 120-foot bug, a hoedown on wheels, bands, balloons, clowns and the prize winning float designed by a Detroit schoolchild. The climax of the procession is, of course, the arrival of Mr. S. Claus in all his magical glory.

Once Santa is on the scene, enchanting things begin to happen. An annual favorite, for children in age and children at heart, is a visit to Fantasyland, opening Nov. 25, and continuing through Dec. 24, at Kennedy Memorial Center at Lincoln Park. This old fashioned Christmas display features a street of toy and candy shops, a mouse factory and a peek inside the elf's workshop. Santa will be there, too, taking Christmas orders and giving a pre-Christmas gift for good girls and boys.

Adults with a bewildering

Christmas list will have the opportunity to shop for original gifts by Michigan artists at the Holly Mart Nov. 3-Dec. 24, in Battle Creek. The Folk Arts Fair, Nov. 3-5 in Flint will feature items from the markets of the world. For those interested in gifts that have withstood the test of time, Antiques Market and Sale at Fairlane Manor in Dearborn Nov. 3-11 and the Holiday Antique Show at the East Eight Mile Armory in Detroit Nov. 15-19, will provide an excellent shopping ground.

Meadowbrook Hall at Rochester will be open for tours Nov. 29-Dec. 3 offering visitors a delightful holiday experience. The 100 rooms of the magnificent English Tudor mansion will be exquisitely decorated for the season. Cranbrook House in Bloomfield Hills will feature "Holiday Tables and Tea" Nov. 18-20.

From elegance to endurance, more than 60 cars from all parts of the nation will battle the clock and the rugged terrain of the Upper Peninsula in the annual Press On Regardless Road Rally Nov. 4-5. Described as "America's oldest, toughest and meanest rally," the 600-mile course begins in Houghton and covers some of the roughest roads in the U.P., testing the mettle of both car and driver.

The trials and tribulations of Daddy Warbucks' favorite ward come to Detroit's Fisher Theatre Nov. 7 when the curtain rises on "Annie" for an open-end engagement. Vincent Price provides "Diversions and Other Delights" Nov. 7 at Western Michigan Auditorium in Kalamazoo.

"Spooks" continues to haunt the Henry Ford Museum Theatre in Dearborn Nov. 3, 4, 11, 17, and 18. And Harry Blackstone Jr., one of the top masters of magic, will mystify the audience with logic-defying illusions Nov. 26 in the Music Hall in Detroit. The heavens provide the setting for "Star of Wonder" at Abrams Planetarium, East Lansing, Nov. 24-30. The presentations concern the astronomical possibilities of the star that led the shepherds and the wise men to the Christ child long ago.

Man's best friend will be the center of attention at the Motor City Specialty Dog Show Nov. 25 and the All Breed Dog Show, Nov. 26 in the Artillery Armory in Oak Park. For cottontail connoisseurs, the Tri-County Rabbit Show is Nov. 4 in Kalamazoo.

Other events to make note of include the Folk Arts Fair, International Institute, Flint, Nov. 3-5;

Holiday on Ice, Nov. 10-12, Walker Arena, Muskegon, and Nov. 28-30, Civic Center, Lansing; Orchid Show, Nov. 10-11, Westmain Mall, Kalamazoo; National Ballet of Spain, Nov. 13, MSU Auditorium, East Lansing; and an Old Fashioned Christmas, Pioneer Village, Ludington, Nov. 24-26.

For a complete listing of November events and Michigan happenings throughout the "snow season", write for a free copy of the Michigan Calendar of Travel Events from the Travel Bureau, Michigan Department of Commerce, Box 30226, Lansing 48909.

Village features crafters

Visitors to Greenfield Village can get a close look at manual labors of love on weekends as costumed craftspeople caress and coax raw materials into the necessities and luxuries of Early America.

During these special 3-day craft weekends, experts focus on different skills, demonstrating and explaining the fine points of the craft like doll making this weekend. The village cider mill will be operating each weekend.

Highly skilled experts will spend this weekend illustrating the making of simple rag dolls with painted faces, china head dolls with ceramic faces and dolls with faces of carved apple. The ever popular cornhusk doll, which appeared in the 18th and early 19th centuries, will also be featured.

Special presentation will be available to the visitor at no additional charge beyond the village admission of $3.50 for adults and $1.50 for children ages 6 through 12. Children under 6 are admitted free.

to present 'Show Boat'

Michigan Opera Theatre continues its eighth season of opera-in-English with a production of Kern's and Hammerstein's immortal classic, "Show Boat".

An immediate hit at its premiere in New York in 1927, "Show Boat" has enjoyed constant successes ever since. Based on the popular novel by Edna Ferber, "Show Boat" became a milestone in the American musical theatre with its treatment of serious subject matter such as marital desertion and inter-racial marriage.

Michigan Opera Theatre's production will star Barbara Meister as Magnolia Hawkes, Ron Husmann as Gaylord Ravenal and Gloria Hodes as Julie LaVerne.

Ms. Meister has had extensive experience both operatically and in musical comedies. Detroit audiences saw her as Maria Von Trapp in "The Sound of Music" during the two-year tour of the National Company.

"Show Boat" will be playing at the Music Hall from Oct. 27 through Nov. 11, a total of fourteen performances. Directed by Frank Egan and Conducted by Mark D. Flint, this musical extravaganza will include a singing, dancing cast of one hundred. For ticket information call 963-7680. Group sales should call Joan Heidt at 963-7622.

ABWA chapter set yuletide bazaar date

The Cloverleaf Chapter of the American Business Women's Association has set the date for their Christmas bazaar. The bazaar will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Nov. 3 and 4 at 74 South St. at Five Points in Downtown Belleville. There will be children's toys, Christmas trees and ornaments, dolls, placemats, wreaths and other handmade items, including baked goods and jams and jellies. There also will be a white elephant sale. Tickets also will be sold for a raffle with first prize being a handmade quilt, second prize a handmade afghan and third prize a handmade shawl. Coffee will be sold at 10 cents a cup. For further information call 697-9357.

Send us your bridal information

Want to share that "special day" with those who are unable to be present in person for your wedding ceremony? We'll write the details of your wedding in story form for you — and at no charge — if you'll simply follow a few guidelines. The Belleville Enterprise and The Romulus Roman offer bridal questionnaires for you to fill out as well as engagement forms for announcing the "start of it all." These forms include all the pertinent questions involved with your marriage or betrothal. Forms may be picked up at our office, 116 Fourth St., Belleville (we're in the old Township Hall, side entrance) anytime during the week between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. We will also mail forms if a telephone request is made. Call Lee Smith, Suburban Living Editor, at 697-9191.

Two Mormon Missionaries plan family home evenings

Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. "Can You — As a Man, As a Woman — Get More Satisfaction Out of Life?" "Can You Feel More Secure in Life?" These questions headline three eight-page advertisements of "The Reader's Digest" the last six months. The articles are to help strengthen families and are sponsored by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (The Mormons).

Two representatives of the Church in this area have copies of these three articles and are sharing a fun, refreshing, family idea with the people of the community. They come into a home and help the father conduct a brief "Family Home Evening" with his family. This program has proven to be a great success in unifying and strengthening the family. There is no cost, and the parents can incorporate their own religious teachings.

These two young women are Sister Bascom of Provo, Utah, and Sister Judd of Cedar City, Utah. They are missionaries of the church, called by a prophet, Spencer W. Kimball, to serve 18 months full-time in preaching the Gospel of Jesus Christ. The term sister is a title given to female missionaries, but also signifies that all are brothers and sisters on this earth.

In coming to Michigan, all finances for their support have been secured on their own in advance so they will be free to teach the Gospel full-time, seven days a week. The church believes the family

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

A woman is "looking up" to find a church.

That's the situation of Mabelene Evans and her husband, Lee, who signed an agreement this week to buy the Norwayne Baptist Church which is closing its doors.

Mrs. Evans, 34, says she has complete faith that God will help her raise the $10,000 down payment for the Westland building.

"We have claimed the building by faith and we know that God is going to honor our faith," she told Associated Newspapers Tuesday. "We're stepping out on faith and it's a great adventure. This community needs a church and we are confident that the Lord will help us raise the money."

The Garden City couple, who have three children in Christian day schools and belong to Garden City Free Will Baptist Church, say they plan a nondenominational church for the building, located at Dorsey and Grand Traverse, just south of Palmer and Venoy intersection, in Westland.

There is a depressing "For Sale" sign on the lawn of the church and Mrs. Evans, who sprinkles her conversation liberally with "Praise the Lord!", says it will be removed "by faith".

She says the 6,000 residents of Norwayne project — a two-square mile community of homes and duplexes built to house World War II factory workers — need a place to worship.

The Norwayne Baptist Church was built at the same time and attendance has dwindled so much that the American Baptist Association officials decided to close its doors.

Mrs. Evans says the name of the new church will be Prayer Faith Community Church. The group is now holding revival services at 7 p.m. nightly in a store building in Norwayne Shopping Center, Venoy Road at Dorsey, in Westland, adjacent to Norwayne Baptist Church.

In addition to the 10-day praise services, the Evanses and about 40 others are planning to hold a 10-hour "Praise-a-Thon" at Gruber Auditorium at the old Eloise Hospital, on Merriman Road, just north of Michigan Avenue.

The group is awaiting approval by the Wayne County Board of Auditors for permission to use the auditorium. "They said our papers got lost when we applied to use the building, but we claimed 'by faith' that they would be found," Mrs. Evans said.

"We got a call saying they found the papers under a secretary's stack of papers on her desk. God works wonders when you ask Him."

Mrs. Evans didn't give the times of the Praise-a-Thon but asked the public to call 522-5129 or 525-9606 for information.

The Bible has the answer

The following question-and-answer column is supplied by The Rev. Ronald Elie, pastor of Zion Missionary Church of Belleville. Those readers with questions for the pastor can contact him at Zion Missionary Church, 89 Edgemont, Belleville, 48111.

Dear Pastor Elie,

Sometimes I think I don't have a choice, or at least a chance. In the Old Testament doesn't it tell us that Judas would betray Jesus? Could he have done anything else, but betray Him? Did he really have a chance? Am I any different then him?

No Chance Bob,
Wayne

Dear Bob,

The Bible has the answer. Certainly, he could have done differently. God wanted Judas to be saved. He wants all men to be saved. "For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour, who will have all men to be saved and to come unto the knowledge of the truth." (1 Timothy 2:3, 4). This is what God wants, this is His will. But, He gives us a free choice, or a free will, to choose for ourselves. He could have made us robots, where we would be forced to love and worship Him, but instead, He wanted us to desire to worship Him. So He made us with a free will. Thus, Judas had a choice, and so do you and everyone else.

The fact is that God is so wise and He knows us so well that He can predict what we are going to do. This is what He did with Judas in the Old Testament. He knew that in spite of the pleading of the Holy Spirit, Judas would not listen and would betray Christ. So He recorded this fact in the scripture. Now Judas could have refused to betray Christ, and the Old Testament would have recorded it as well.

Turbeville runs wild against Bruins

Wayne buries Wyandotte, 40-20

Enjoying his best offensive evening of season, runningback Ed Turbeville scored three touchdowns and rushed for 109 yards to spark Wayne to a 40-20 Great Lakes 8 Conference football victory over Wyandotte.

Turbeville, who also had a superb 80-yard touchdown run called back because of a clip, scored on runs of one, seven and one as Wayne chalked up their fourth conference victory in six starts.

"We played one of our finest offensive games of the season," said Wayne Coach Floyd Carter whose troops take on an always dangerous Riverview Friday night. "We ran the ball very well and Ed (Turbeville) was at his best," Carter added. "And we dominated the game to the point where we only had to punt twice the entire game." Carter is concerned though, by

Crucial situation

Senior quarterback Randy Pichan has come through for New Boston Huron this year during crucial situations as the one above when he boots the extra point that helps the Chiefs put down a determined Airport, 14-6. Pichan and his teammates have another crucial game Friday night when they clash with Flat Rock. If the Huron gridgers can come away with a victory, they have a good shot at a share of the conference championship.

Belleville ends 18 game losing streak

Streaks are made to be broken, and thanks goodness for that.

Ask Tom Fielder and the Belleville Tigers who put an abrupt end to an 18-game losing streak last week by upending Livonia Bentley 6-0 last Friday, thus shattering one of the longest Class A football losing streaks in the state.

"We were fortunate," said Fielder, and assistant coach who has been given the task as public relations until the school finds a new head coach. (Belleville's head coach, Pat Stokes, resigned recently and the school administration announced that the three assistant coaches will have the responsibility of fielding the team.)

"We had to try some things differently in the fourth quarter to pull this one out," Fielder continued, "and fortunately it worked."

Belleville had some chances to score early in the game but didn't capitalize upon them. Then, in the fourth quarter, quarterback Tim Ellsworth engineered a 22-play drive that ended at the Bentley one-yard line.

the increasing names on his injury list. Keith Kolehmainen, a strong safety, Jim Hester, a defensive tackle, and Bob Williams, an offensive guard, are still nursing hurts. Also, Mike Wilson, who was injured early in the campaign, has not fully recovered.

But Mark Zerna, a slotback who gives the Zebras an added dimension on offense and defense, should be 100 percent ready for the Pirates, according to Carter.

Riverview, the lone Class B team in the Great Lakes, has always posed a problem for the local gridders who give "us more than we can handle."

"Riverview beat Lincoln Park but lost 12-0 to Truman last week," said Carter, "and our scouts report that Riverview plays excellent defense and has a good size team."

Wayne got down to business early with Wyandotte as the Zebras scored after their first series of plays. Quarterback Mark Korte masterminded a 51-yard, six play drive which ended with Turbeville plunging in from the one. Turbeville set up the TD with a 42-yard sprint.

With 8:48 left in the initial period, Wayne had a 7-0 lead after Skip Walker successfully converted.

On the first play from scrimmage in the second quarter, Turbeville broke loose for an 80-yard touchdown run, but the six-points came off the scoreboard when the officials ruled a clip against the Zebras.

Korte then got into the scoring act and used an option to elude the Bruins. He broke away on a 75-yard TD sprint, but Walker missed the point after.

Ahead 13-0, Wayne struck again before the half as Rich Rogers polished off a short drive with a three-yard scoring run. Walker made good on the conversion and Carter took his gang into the locker room with a 20-0 lead.

Wyandotte made its move after the intermission as Glen Jubeck scored from the five midway into the quarter.

Wayne fumbled after the ensuing kickoff and the Bruins got their second touchdown when Tim Wlodkowski scooped up the errant ball and ran 62 yards into the Zebra end zone.

With one second left in the quarter, Turbeville capped a 51-yard drive by lunging into the end zone. Ahead 27-12 after three periods, (Continued on 2nd Sports)

A dilemma: Providing ample sports coverage

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

Petite Diane Gilroy probably personifies the dilemma sports editors have these days.

If Diane had been a boy, the name would have been familiar with most of the readers of these pages, however, Diane is a girl and she is also an outstanding tennis player.

DIANE GILROY

In fact, the 17-year-old senior had an undefeated 16-0 season and is considered among the top players in the state for her age group.

But because local newspapers usually don't have the space to give girls' teams and athletes equal coverage, few hear about the exploits of the fairer sex.

"Diane has tremendous potential," said Cherry Hill Coach Gordon Parrington. "She has beaten players who are presently on the rosters of major colleges in the country."

"In fact, I feel that she could move into a college lineup right now and play on equal terms with almost anyone," continued Parrington, a former Garden City East High netter.

Miss Gilroy has the unique distinction of being named to the all-conference (Tri-River) team three consecutive years as the No.1 singles player. She has during the span of the last three years also compiled a phenomenal 25-3 record, unequaled by any other player in the league.

A 3.06 average student scholastically, Diane lost a couple of heartbreakers in the post-season playoffs. She engaged the state's No.2 ranked Margaret Mayer in the semi-finals and dropped a pair of games. Miss Mayer yielded to the No.1 ranked player, Grosse Pointe Liggett's Sue Mascarin, in the finals of the state championship.

"In my opinion, Miss Gilroy is the finest tennis player in the history of Cherry Hill high school," Parrington offered, "and it's a pity she hasn't gotten the ink."

Can't argue that point.

Lofton Green vs. Thompson?

They're trying to get George Thompson Jr. and Lofton Green to coach the All-Star teams for the Inkster Boys' Club Benefit Basketball Game.

Thompson would handle his former stars from Inkster, while Lofton will put together a lineup from ex-all-stars and pros from Rouge and Ecorse.

Cougars win 2 from Romulus

Dave Brinkerhoff and Dave Ziegler scored touchdowns for the Cougars in their 13-0 shutout over the Romulus freshmen, while the junior varsity scored a 20-0 victory over their peers.

Romulus however ended the afternoon with a 27-7 victory over their rivals. Russ Thomas scored the lone Cougar touchdown.

Belleville will host Plymouth at 5:30 p.m. Saturday on the high school gridiron for their next meeting.

Glenn to host WW swim invitational

Wayne Memorial and Westland John Glenn finished 1-2 last year at the Western Wayne Swimming & Diving Invitational for girls, but Glenn Coach Jim Lawrence doesn't see it that way when the eight teams get together next week.

"This will be a very close meet," said the rookie Glenn mentor. "There's going to be a battle for the championship, believe me."

Glenn will host the competitions that will get underway Friday, Nov. 3, with the preliminaries of the swimming events scheduled for 2 p.m. On Saturday, Nov. 4 at 10 a.m., the diving competition with get underway, then at 2 p.m. on the same day there finals will be decided.

Belleville and Garden City East have accepted the invitation to compete but the four remaining entries are not determined as yet, according to Lawrence. There will be a $1 admission charge for the finals and all preliminary events will cost 50 cents. Meanwhile, Glenn squeaked past Livonia Franklin 88-84 thanks to its final relay team to fatten its Northwest Suburban Conference record to 3-2 on the year. Earlier in the week the Westlanders downed Livonia Churchill 94-73 despite Churchill's overwhelming edge (9-2) in first places.

In the Churchill meet, Glenn received winning performances from Thelma Kew who touched in first for the 200-yard individual medley (2:36.7) and the 400-yard freestyle relay.

That relay team, made up of Miss Kew, Mary Wilbur, Denise Wickline and Kelly Lane combined for a 4:18.7 to beat Franklin's entry and turn the tide in that Northwest Suburban confrontation.

"We needed to take a first and third in the relays to beat Franklin and our girls did it," said Lawrence. Glenn returns to the pool Thursday at 7 p.m., hosting Redford Union, a team that tainted the Rockets' record the first time around. Glenn will be swimming for revenge in this second encounter. Chiefs scalped, 25-6

Overconfident Canton falls to Walled Lake

By ERIC GEARNS
Special to ANP

There is at least one thing that Canton football Coach Dave Schuele will not have to worry about when his team takes on Garden City East Friday Night — overconfidence.

The Chiefs waltzed into Walled Lake Western and assumed, like everybody else, that there was no way they could lose to the Warriors.

Western, however, had different plans and delighted their homecoming crowd of over 3000 by scalping the Chiefs 25-6.

Canton must now defeat East and Edsel Ford in order to finish over .500 for the season.

Walled Lake figured out how to stop Canton, by stopping Rusty Mandle. The Warriors held the All-State candidate to just 59 yards for the night. That gives Mandle a total of 807 yards for the season with two games remaining. Offensively, Western did everything right with John Meyer leading the team with 126 yards in five carries and scoring two TD's.

Western scored in each quarter their first coming late in the first stanza on a 97 yard run from scrimmage, by Meyer and a two point conversion on a fake kick and pass from quarterback Mike Bryant to Jim Mikkola.

The Warriors added a field goal in the second half as Andy Koch booted a 32-yarder to give Walled Lake a 11-0 halftime bulge.

In the third period it was Meyer again, this time on a 10 yard scamper around end. Koch's kick gave Western an 18-0 lead.

In the final quarter Bryant went 3-yards on a keeper, Koch added his sixth point of the night and Western was out in front 25-0. Canton finally got on the board with 2:10 remaining in the game as Mandle went five yards to paydirt to account for the Chiefs only score. Canton got the ball back right away as Craig Gearns recovered the onside kick attempt, but the Chiefs could do nothing more and took their fourth loss against three wins. Walled Lake Western has an identical record.

The only bright spot for Canton was the punting of Steve Eddy who kicked the ball six times for an average of 43 yards per kick.

Schuele summed up the disappointment by saying, "We did everything wrong and they did everything right. Our kids played their worst game of the year and they played their best."

The Chiefs will travel to Garden City East Friday night to take on the Panthers, before returning home for their final contest against Edsel Ford.

Cherry Hill jolts GC West

Spartans awesome in 6th victory

Unleashing an awesome offense and near-perfect on defense, playoff-hopeful Cherry Hill destroyed Garden City West 53-6 for their sixth win in seven starts.

The 53 points are the most any Cherry Hill team has ever put on the scoreboard in one game. Coach Jerry Pawloski's Spartans continue to shatter all grid records as they tighten their grip on second place in the Tri-River Conference. They trail only undefeated Melvindale in the standings.

"Our defense really did the job," said Pawloski. "We held them to a total of two-yards rushing and that's something."

Quarterback Rich Searcy scored three of the Spartans TDs on runs of one and 48 yards and a sterling 95-yard kickoff return. He compiled 82 yards in seven carries and also completed two of three passes, one going for a 45-yard touchdown to receiver Darnell Green.

Tom Minor, who alternates with Searcy at the QB slot, scored on a 12-yard pass to Jon Sweet. Minor contributed two touchdowns on runs of 22 and 20, the later was an interception he turned into a six-pointer.

The fast-moving Spartan back finished the afternoon with 74 yards in 10 tries and he has 400 yards on the season.

Floyd Simmons ran 47 yards for a touchdown for the other Spartan score.

"We're very fortunate to have so much talent on one team," said Pawloski. "I feel we have eight backs and not just one first string backfield. Three or four of those players can play any position."

Pawloski also labeled the 1978 team as "the best in the school's history."

Garden City was forced to go to the air to infiltrate the Spartan defenses that were infallible on the ground. The Tigers collected 115 yards for their air attack and only two yards rushing. Bob Tamm, a tackle, who recovered a fumble and had six solo tackles and two assists, Darrall Gallant, a noseman, who had six unassisted tackles, and also caused three interceptions, along with Wayne Nichols, and Minor, who contributed an interception, fumble and four unassisted tackles spearheaded the defense.

West, which has been a thorn in Cherry Hill's side in the past, managed to get a mere three first downs.

But Pawloski and the Spartans don't expect to find the going easy Saturday when they clash with Dearborn Heights Crestwood which has won three games this year.

"We respect everyone," Pawloski said. "Though I don't think they are as strong as they were a year ago, we won't take them lightly."

and controlled the rest of the action. Turbeville went in from the seven yard line and Korte teamed with Mark Zeron on an 8-yard touchdown pass. Walker converted one of his two point attempts.

Korte, along with contributing a touchdown pass, was on target for one of three passes for 45 yards and he also picked up 132 yards on eight rushing attempts.

Gary Duplessis and Emery Biggerstaff each had fumble recoveries for the Zebras while Korte, used on defense, chalked up a pair of interceptions.

Wayne amassed 368 yards - their best showing in recent years on the ground and also had their worst night - 110 yards in penalties.

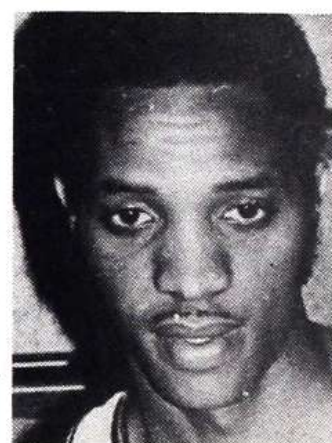

Seated behind undefeated Monroe and once-defeated Fordson in the standings, Wayne could finish in third if they win this week. Though the defense played in spurts, it wasn't because of Mike Mason, John Lawrence, Ray Lancki or Ted Salvadori's efforts. Mason, a linebacker, was credited with eight solo and eight assists, while Lawrence and Lanczki split 12 tackles and Salvadori accounted for five solos.

Though neither coach has made a commitment, it would be interesting to see the two veteran cage strategists in an out-of-league confrontation that would benefit the kids.

"We're hoping that the two will agree to coach the teams," said Fred Smiley, former All-American, all-stater from Inkster High.

FRED SMILEY

And I would be willing to get my old cage uniform out of moth balls for this special occasion — unfortunately, no one wants me on their team.

"I know that they'd gladly help out if they don't have another commitment."

The game is scheduled for Friday night at 7:30 p.m. and tickets will be available at the gate. This is the first "big game" to be staged in the newly-constructed Inkster Sports Complex (on Middlebelt, a mile north of Michigan Ave.) and with notables such as Smiley, Eartha Faust, Andre Richardson, and many, many more - the game is worth the $2.00 admission (for adults).

Wayne whips Wyandotte

that covered 12-yards gave them their final TD of the game. That same combination accounted for the two point conversion. With 7:31 left, Wayne dominated

Churchill claims Western '6' crown

Coach Kaestner's Chiefs are perfect champs

ANP Sports Editor

This wasn't supposed to be Livonia Churchill's year in football. But a hard-working, never-quitting Churchill grid team refused to accept that fact as Coach Ken Kaestner's Chiefs swarmed over Waterford Mott 33-0 Friday to end 1978 Western Six Conference campaign with a perfect 5-0 record and their third conference championship in 10 years. "What we had going for us," pointed out Kaestner, "was that we had a group of hard-nosed kids who wanted to play football. These kids made things happen out there and the rest is history - they're 7-0." And the Livonians have an excellent opportunity to make it in the playoffs, however, two arch city rivals - Franklin and Stevenson stand in their way. "I don't have to tell you about city rivals," said Kaestner. "Franklin has always been tough and Stevenson is still undefeated, so don't think we're going to rest on our laurels. We got a lot of work ahead of us and we must win in order to reach the playoffs."

Mott held the volatile Churchill offense to one touchdown in the first half, but quarterback Rick Coppola and runningback Doran Mason, who received outstanding blocking from their colleagues, were just too much. Mason picked up two more touchdowns to bring his total to 10 on the season and he also rushed for 191 yards in 10 carries which gives him 942 yards. The 5-9, 170-pound senior has become one of the most productive players in the school's history. Mott held the powerful Chiefs to a single touchdown in the first half, but Churchill erupted for two TDs in each of the final two periods. Mason got the first six-pointer as he capped a midfield drive with a sprint over the Mott goal line from two yards out. Coppola then kicked the extra point which was enough for the Livonians to wrap up their seventh win in as many starts. A Mott miscue put the Chiefs on the board in the second half. Defensive halfback Dave Krick broke up a Mott pass play by stepping into the path of an aerial and raced 37 yards for a touchdown and Coppola again came through with (Continued on 4th Sports)

Glenn holds off nemesis, Franklin

Though North Farmington did irreparable damage to their dreams to repeat as Northwest Suburban Conference football champs, John Glenn made sure that its perennial 'thorn' Livonia Franklin didn't carry out its plans to destroy the Rockets bid for runner-up honors.

Glenn struck for 10 first half points, then held off Coach Armand Vigna's Patriots 10-7 to nail down second place in the conference and win their sixth game in seven starts. It was also Franklin's third consecutive loss, the longest losing streak in recent years for the Patriots who have to contend with undefeated Livonia Churchill this week and Bentley next week.

"I was pleased with our victory," said Glenn's Chuck Gordon, "however, I was not pleased with our execution."

Vigna said that he felt "that after we scored that touchdown in the third quarter, I thought we still had a chance to win the game."

It was only Franklin's second loss to the Westlanders in 15 years and it was Franklin which robbed Glenn of winning the conference championship outright a year ago.

Glenn got a 36-yard field goal out of Kai Deluca on the last play of the first quarter to take the lead and cashed in on a Franklin turnover in the second quarter for their lone TD of the game.

The Westlanders took possession of the ball after a Patriot fumble on the Franklin 36 thanks to Karl Shelley and five plays later, quarterback Rob Suida maneuvered his Rockets to the five. Suida, who had a defense-shattering 29 yard run in that drive, eventually scored from the one and Deluca converted.

Jerry Cifor, whose 200-yards and two touchdowns, led to Glenn's demise a year ago, accounted for Franklin's third quarter touchdown. He polished off a short drive by racing in the end zone from the four. Cifor, held in check most of the afternoon by an excellent Glenn defense, got his chance to score when Tim Przysiecki blocked a Glenn punt and scooped it up, racing to the Glenn four before he was nailed from behind.

Don Boka kicked the extra point.

Glenn controlled the rest of the action as Suida called a perfect game in the remaining minutes. He put together a 12-play drive, using Tim Ruark's running ability and, on a fourth down, a Franklin player helped by intercepting Suida's pass on the Franklin four. Five plays later, the Patriots were forced to punt and with 9:09 left in the game, they regained the ball only briefly in the last minute of the game.

Glenn burned up the last seven minutes with a 15-play drive and gave it up deep in Franklin territory. The Patriots' hopes of an upset expired when Greg Houffley picked off his second interception of the evening.

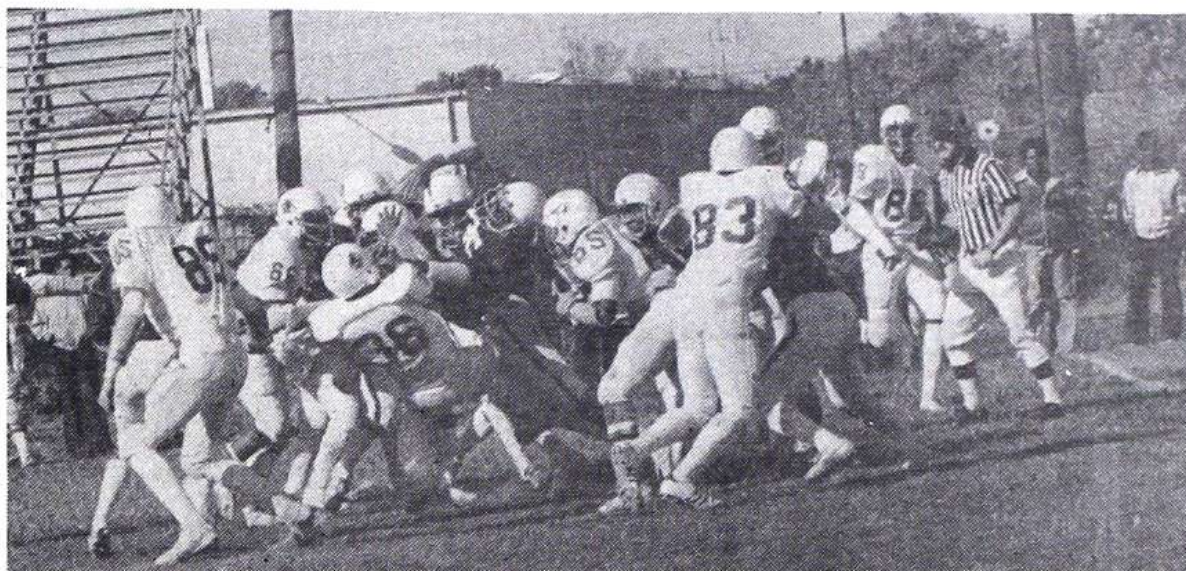

Suida compiled 75 yards on 10 carries and one TD and Ruark finished the game with 71 yards. Houffley joined Deluca and Jim Hendrian as the workhorses for Glenn on defense - which gave up only 21 yards (six carries) to the fast-moving Cifor.

Russ Hall, a center, guard Brian Sipes and tackle Jeff Killingbeck, also earned accolades for their offensive efforts.

Glenn has to think about undefeated Livonia Stevenson this week. Gordon's Rockets will travel to the Spartan stadium Friday night at 8 in hopes of becoming the first team to mar the Inter-Lakes Conference champ's record.

"Stevenson's record speaks for itself," said Gordon, "they are a fine football team and Jim Fox, (Stevenson backup quarterback who replaced the injured Russ Hall last week) looks real good."

Meanwhile, Franklin clashes with undefeated Churchill and "Churchill is in the class of the other great teams in this area as North Farmington and Glenn. They are playoff-bound and we'll be out to stop them," Vigna said.

Slamming the door shut

A valiant effort by an undermanned Inkster High football team attempted to detour River Rouge's title express in the Suburban Athletic Conference last Friday and came up short. Inkster, playing before a homecoming crowd, bowed to the downriver power, 8-0, and wound up in the cellar of the SAC conference with an 0-4 record. Coach Arnie James' Vikings will head for Clarenceville Friday night for their first of two nonleague games left on their 1978 schedule. Above, a host of Rouge defenders slam the door shut on a Viking ballcarrier's attempt for yardage.

Beregsasy scores 4 TDs

Bean's last second TD gives Romulus edge over Parkers

A Hollywood or TV script writer probably couldn't have written a better ending for Romulus' "ulcer-causing" 36-35 victory over Oak Park.

Vince Bean changed the course of events when he scooped up a fumble with 36 seconds left in the game and ran it back 50 yards for the game-winning touchdown. Up to that point (that is, six points), Coach Don Foley and his Eagles were looking at a 35-30 deficit.

"It was a real good one for us to win," said Foley whose team was off the week before because of an "open date." "We followed our game plan which was to run right at them and it worked."

Romulus rushed for 290 yards in the wild affair which saw the lead change hands some seven times. Romulus held leads of 7-0, 15-8, 21-16, and it wasn't until the last minute that the outcome of the game was determined.

Foley and his Eagles will head for Dearborn Heights on Friday to entertain Annapolis, a team that hasn't won this season. Romulus will be seeking its third win in eight starts.

Foley got what he called, "his biggest victory" after "an ulcer-causing game."

"We got one of those breaks that in the past usually went against us," Foley said. "Needless to say we're very happy."

Les Beregsasy enjoyed his finest day in a Romulus varsity grid uniform as the senior fullback scored the first four Eagle touchdowns. He sprinted over the goal line from the 12, 32, 8 and four and rushed for 156 yards in 23 attempts. Les also accounted for two of the extra points.

Richard Lewis scored the other Romulus touchdown as he amassed 86 yards in 12 attempts.

Foley pinpointed his problems against Oak Park to his team's inept pass defense. "One of the strongest points, I felt, was our pass defense, but Oak Park really shattered that."

Redskin quarterback Jerry Stewart and split end Tom Braden played havoc with the Eagle secondary as they teamed up on TD passes of 43, 53, and eight yards. Stewart also completed 11 of 14 passes for 220 yards.

"In my opinion that passing combination of Stewart and Braden is the best I've seen and the best we will see this year."

Stewart has now tossed for 12 TDs and Braden has caught eight of them.

Dwayne Parker also may have found himself with a permanent job as the junior Romulus quarterback looked "extremely good in his first start of the season," Foley said.

Parker got ample protection from a rested offensive line which included guard Darren Cline, center Bob Blanton, linemen Mark Sullivan and Rick Summers.

The offense enjoyed its best game of the year as it racked up 16 first downs, 308 yards total, which included 290 yards on the ground.

After their meeting with Annapolis Friday, Romulus will come home for its final game of the season on Nov. 3 when the Eagles will host a tough Riverview for homecoming.

It's that time of the year when hunters get out their rifles and polish up their gear and head North to stalk their prey.

And, to get ready for the annual trek, the Wayne Jaycees, in cooperation with Carlos Blades of the National Rifleman's Association, will conduct a hunter's safety clinic.

The clinic will be held 9:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 11 at the Wayne Community Center, Howe and Annapolis Rds.

"The primary purpose of the 'Gun, Hunter Safety Classes'," said Dan Smith, Jaycees' project chairman, "is to teach young sportsmen the proper and safe handling of guns."

"Also, the Michigan Department of Natural Resources requires that hunters between the ages of 12-16, and who are buying hunting licenses for the first time must have completed a certified safety course."

Blades is a licensed DNR and those who complete the one day, six-hour course will receive a certificate to that effect.

There is a $1 registration fee, payable at the door. Also, a parent or adult is asked to bring the participant and remain for at least the first half-hour.

Further information may be obtained by telephoning Smith at 721-5329 or Fred Montgomery at 728-4065.

Also, participants should bring lunch or make arrangements for food. All other necessary items will be furnished.

Area harriers head for Huron regional

Wayne Memorial, the defending Class A regional cross country champ, will place its crown on the block Saturday at New Boston Huron and Coach Ernie Righetti will have to be careful so that Fordson doesn't snatch it away.

Fordson, which beat Wayne in a head-on confrontation during the Great Lakes 8 Conference season, and also finished ahead of the Zebras in last Saturday's University of Michigan-Dearborn Campus Invitational is favored to win the regional to be staged at Willow Park in New Boston.

Most of the area teams, including Westland John Glenn, Belleville, Romulus, Plymouth Salem and Canton will be represented at the Huron regional.

And, in order to qualify for the state finals a team must finish third or better.

"Fordson definitely is the team to beat," admits Righetti who probably has the No. 1 runner in the state in Doug Tolson. "But, I don't think anyone is counting us out of this thing. We have an excellent team, and I feel we need a solid fifth man to become a great team."

Wayne finished behind Northville and Fordson at the U of M Invitational but Tolson, who is undefeated in 16 starts this season, picked up a first place medal in setting a course record.

Tolson, who is a junior and has a year ahead of him, ran a torrid 14:58 and led a Northville runner and teammate Paul Spencer across the finish line. Spencer's time was 15:28.

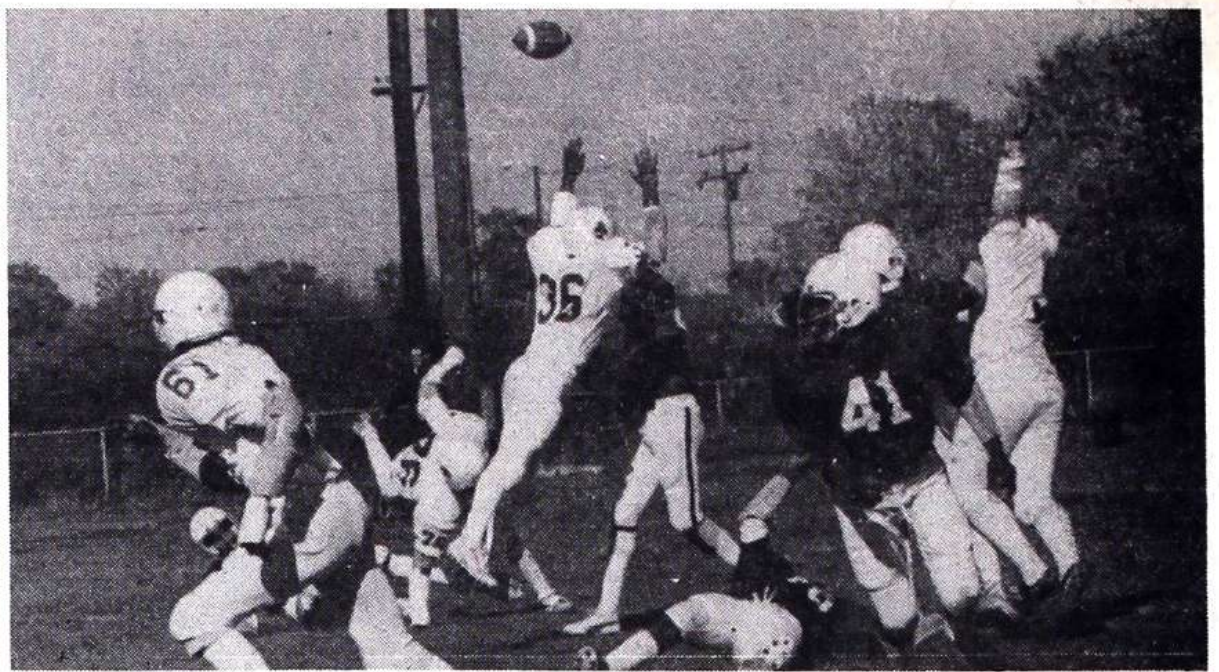

Wayne also made it five out of six in the conference last week by overpowering Wyandotte 15-50. Tolson set the pace with a 15:30 finish, while Spencer hit the wire second (15:30), followed by Mark Michalowski (16:08), Andy Stopchinski (16:41), Joe Tonna (17:05), Don Wellman (17:09), and Gary Dyke (17:09).

In their annual "Golden Shoe" meet with neighboring rival, Westland John Glenn, Wayne sophomores retained the symbolic shoe with relative ease, 15-40. It was the fourth consecutive year that Wayne took possession of 'the shoe', presented to the winner of meet between the two schools sophomores.

Tonna was the first to cross the finish line (17:48), and Zebra runners Jamie Parlette (18:03), Bob Swain (18:05), Bob Johnston (19:09), and Todd Worthington (19:09) followed.

Glenn, meanwhile, apparently will have to surrender its Northwest (Continued on 5th Sports)

Where's pass protection?

It was pressure like this, applied by a onrushing, outstretched River Rouge defender, on a frustrated Inkster quarterback that halted the Vikings' offense Friday afternoon. Coach Arnie James' troops gave it a good try, though, in front of a homecoming crowd but fell 8-0 in their final Suburban Athletic Conference game of the season.

the point-after, making it a 14-zip ball game.

A superb 44-yard meandering run by Mason provided the Chiefs with their second TD of the third quarter as Mason broke loose off tackle and left a host of would-be Mott tacklers in his wake.

Early in the fourth quarter, Coppola got his TD on a five-yard option, perfectly executed to the frustrations of Mott defenders and the Churchill QB then converted and for all purposes the officials could have called it a day.

However, Churchill wasn't through - it tilted the scoreboard again late in the period when backup quarterback Bill Keller teamed with Gary Venditelli on a 26-yard scoring pass play.

"The key to this victory," noted Kaestner, "was definitely the fine play of our defensive unit and the running by Doran Mason."

Mason piled up 191 yards in 20 carries and the 5-9 senior has established himself as a legitimate all-state candidate.

Kaestner also pointed out "our offense was sloppy in the first half and we existed at the expense of our defense. We can't afford to play the way we did the first two periods and expect to beat the final two rivals - they will capitalize on our mistakes, believe me."

In order to stop Franklin, Kaestner said, his team would have to contain Cifor (Jerry) "who can make things happen on a football field."

"If we can win the last two games we can qualify, (for the state playoffs)," said Kaestner, "but they are tough games. One thing good about all of this is that we don't have to rely on other teams to do the job - if we win, then we go. If we lose we can blame no one but ourselves."

Tigers

completed four of nine passes for 42 yards while Bentley found the airwaves impregnable as the Bulldogs made two of 22 and had a net loss of 17 yards for their attempts.

Penalties hurt Belleville (100 yards) worse than it did Bentley.

Reddick, a junior tailback, had 65 yards in 15 carries, and Rick Winekoff, a junior back, picked up 33 for seven attempts. John Losen, also a junior, picked up 32 yards in nine tries.

Redford Union, a team that has given the Suburban 8 Conference leaders a fit but has been less than impressive against the "also rans" is next for the Tigers who will have a homecoming crowd on hand Friday night.

"R.U. has looked impressive early in the season, but something has happened to them lately. We don't know if it's due to injuries or what but we know they are capable," said Fielder.

TOM MOSHIMER

Salem stuns Edsel Ford, 22-8

The anticipated showdown between defending Suburban 8 football champ, Plymouth Salem, and Edsel Ford didn't materialize as the Dearbornites discovered they were no match for a steel-willed Rock lineup.

Coach Tom Moshimer's minion blew the T-Birds off the field, 22-8, for their fifth conference and sixth over-all record in seven starts.

In order for Salem to get a share of the conference championship undefeated Trenton would have to lose to sixth place Allen Park, while Salem disposes of winless Bentley. Even Moshimer admits "there is only a slim possibility that Trenton would lose its final game."

"I just can't see them (Trenton) losing to Allen Park," said Moshimer. "Trenton just has too much for them in almost every department."

Moshimer also admitted that he "anticipated a tougher ball game from Edsel."

"I can't explain it," Moshimer continued, "but we handled them relatively easily. In fact, the first two times we had possession of the ball we scored."

Craig Stack got the first one for the Rocks, a 48-yard run with 8:39 flashing on the scoreboard. But, reliable Rick Hanschu missed the conversion and the Rocks held a 6-0 lead over the hosts.

With 4:04 left in the same period, Salem struck again. This time it was all-state quarterback Rich Hewlett generating the points. Hewlett broke loose for a 55-yarder and that gave the Rocks a 12-0 wedge and a Hewlett-to-Stack pass failed to find the mark.

However, Salem wasn't through. Late in the first half, Hanschu was called upon for a 26-yard field goal and he sent the ball through the uprights, lifting the Rocks to an impressive 15-0 halftime lead.

In the third quarter, Hewlett teamed with Hanschu on a 36-yard touchdown pass and, for all purposes, it was all over for Edsel which now trailed 22-0 after Hanschu's conversion.

It averted the shutout, Coach Jon Davis' T-Bird got on the board with a minute left in the game. Quarterback Jamie Bedenis climaxed a 72-yard drive with a one-yard sneak.

Stack was the mainstay of the Rock's offense for this one as he amassed 169 yards in 16 carries, while Hewlett contributed 82-yards in nine tries. The two had to credit teammate Jim Baratony for his excellent blocking, while Mike Prchlik, Scott Piper and Bill Anderson, who filled in for the injured Chris Kapler, played an aggressive brand of defense which humbled the highly-touted Dearbornites.

Hockey

Robertson tallied for the losers. Larry Whicker notched the first shutout of his career as he masterminded Four Seasons' 4-0 victory over winless Huron Valley Total. Tom Dilaura chalked up two goals for the winners. Terry Boate and Ken Wallace added single goals.

Brock Homes rebounded from its first setback of the season to jolt Johnson Carbonic 6-3 for their second win of the campaign. The victors scored two goals in each period and were never headed.

Dennis Broge and Ron Johnson accounting for the loser's goals.

The teams will be back in action on Sunday as Johnson's attempts to end Extra Points' domination of the league. The two teams play the nightcap (8 p.m.) game at the Westland Rink, while the opener pits Taste Freez against Brock's at 6:30 p.m.

Meanwhile, Furturama clashes with Four Seasons at 9 p.m. at the Wayne Arena and Huron Valley will entertain Jack's Sports Center at 10:30 p.m.

Bulldogs get 3rd of SAC title

After hanging on to the Suburban Athletic Conference football title for a year, Dearborn Heights Robichaud will have to split the crown three ways.

The defending champs managed to salvage a share of the championship by whipping Ecorse's red Raiders 26-0 in the conference finale last week. The Bulldogs, who had lost to Highland Park a week before, and River Rouge, who stopped the Parkers earlier in the season, find themselves in a three-way tie for first place in the final standings.

"We sort of backed into the championship," said Robichaud Coach Bob Yauck. "And that's the kind of season it's been - an up-and-down year."

"I felt we had the thing in our mitts after we beat Rouge, but Highland Park made us think otherwise."

Robichaud took advantage of every turnover the Red Raiders offered last week. They turned two miscues into quick touchdowns and never worried about any retaliation from their rivals who have won only one game this year.

Mark Woodson, one of the top sprinters in the state, accounted for three Robichaud touchdowns as he raced 17-yards in the first quarter into the end zone for the first TD of the game. That capped a short drive. Then, John Lucas blocked a Ecorse punt which wound up in the Red Raider end zone and Woodson on top of the ball for the second TD.

Darryl Goree trapped the Ecorse QB in the end zone and the Bulldogs got a two-point safety for his efforts while Woodson came up with a neat 31-yard run that culminated a midfield drive for his final TD of the game.

"We had a couple of other scoring opportunities," Yauck said, "but they were erased by mistakes."

In the fourth quarter, quarterback Sidney Brisbane wrapped up the scoring when he engineered a 75-yard sixplay drive which ended with his 28-yard touchdown pass to slotback Clyde Elba.

Woodson continued to pace the Bulldog offense as he picked up 82 yards in 16 carries, while Brisbane, a sophomore, connected on six of nine passes for 111 yards and one touchdown.

Warren Dorsey, a fullback, came up with some exceptional blocking for his teammates and the 6-1, 185-pound also contributed 48 yards rushing.

Goree had three pass receptions worth 59 yards and the Bulldog front four - Calvin Townsend, Ralph Payne, Lucas and Rick Morais got the job done again.

Sporting a 3-4 over-all record, Robichaud could be faced with their first losing year in recent times. The Bulldogs have an explosive Ida to contend with Friday night in Ida at 7:30 p.m. and will host Melvindale, undefeated Tri-River Conference leader, in the season curtain-drawer a week from Friday.

"We're going to have to play flawless ball to salvage a winning season," said Yauck. "The next two are big ones for us."

Cage talks

Melvindale will host one of 20 Michigan High School Athletic Association basketball meetings scheduled for the next week and the first week of November.

The meeting at Melvindale will be held on Thurs., Nov. 2 and will cover, "Pertinent MHSAA Matters", "1978-79 Basketball Rules Changes" and "Points of Emphasis in the Basketball Rules."

The rules will be discussed by a MHSAA representative.

At the end of the discussions, a basketball movie, "Winning Ways" will be shown.

Chiefs need to beat Flat Rock to stay alive in grid title race

If New Boston Huron wants anything further to do with the conference football championship, the Chiefs will have to have their say at the expense of Flat Rock.

The two Huron Conference rivals tangle Friday night and if Coach Tom Lebeau's Chiefs waltz away with a victory they return into the thick of the title race.

Huron, which dumped Airport 14-6 last Friday, carries a 4-2 league record into the "must game", while Flat Rock knocked off previously undefeated Monroe Catholic Central and will bring a 5-1 mark into the showdown.

Four teams - Huron, Flat Rock, Monroe CC and Airport now have an excellent shot at the title.

"There is a possibility of a four-way tie for first place," said Lebeau, "and, of course, a lot depends on the outcome of Friday's games."

Commenting upon Flat Rock's abilities, Lebeau said that "they have a very quick team and an excellent quarterback in Greg Cohen.

"Flat Rock isn't as big as they have been in the past, but they have a lot of team speed which can cause anyone trouble if you're not ready."

Huron has earmarked the game as "Parents' Night."

The Chiefs got their first big break against Airport in the closing minutes of the first quarter when Tim Manderville blocked a punt and Ed Umin was at the right place (end zone) at the right time and fell on the ball for a touchdown.

Randy Pichan, the Chiefs' versatile quarterback, then booted his first of two point-after. With 2:55 left, Huron had the lead 7-0.

Pichan got the Chiefs' offense moving in the second quarter after an exchange of punts and strung together a 60-yard drive which he ended with a 24-yard touchdown run.

But Airport kept the outcome of the game in doubt when it scored thanks to a Chief "gift" just before the half. Huron fumbled deep in its territory and Airport recovered on the 10. The hosts scored on the second play from scrimmage when Greg Duffy managed to break through the Chiefs' defenses.

It was one of the few times the Huron defense let-up. The Chiefs' defenders, led by defensive tackle Mark Morris, linebackers Manderville and Umin, had bottled up the Airport offense most of the evening. In fact, Airport didn't get beyond midfield the entire second half.

Pichan accounted for 75 yards rushing and a touchdown for his 12 carries and Greg Smith rushed for 91 yards in 11 carries.

The Chiefs had the edge in first downs 13-6 and in total yards 269 to 119. The winners were slapped with eight penalties that cost them 55 yards as compared to Airport's eight blunders for 65 yards.

DOUG TOLSON

DNR expert says:

'Don't shoot at whole deer'

By ANDY AMMANN
Retired Department of Natural Resources
Northern game bird Specialist

Once while archery deer hunting, I came upon an old hunter sitting on a stump. Stuck into the ground around him were his arrows, forming a semi-circle, presumably set that way so he could grab them quickly if a deer came his way.

"When you stick your arrows in the ground, it must dull the edges pretty badly?" I asked, more in shock at the sight than because I expected an answer.

"Oh, I suppose it does," he said, "but I never get any shots anyway, so it doesn't really matter."

Good grief, I thought, walking away, driven to the sudden thought that the salvation of bow hunting must lie with the young.

Of course I don't really believe that. Young and old alike can enjoy this sport, and a great many bow hunters do enjoy sitting on stumps in the woods on nice fall days without ever caring if a deer ambles past.

But for most archers, much of the thrill still lies in the hunt. They maintain a durable hope that deer will turn up, and that they will get off a shot or two each season. Michigan has had bow and arrow deer seasons continuously since 1937, providing fall recreation for thousands of hunters.

This year, archery deer season opened October 1. It ends, temporarily, November 14 for the firearm deer season, and resumes December 1 through 15 in southern lower Michigan and December 1 through 31 in the rest of the state.

For anyone interested in taking up archery, and particularly bow hunting, there are a number of tried-and-true principles that make this sport both enjoyable and productive. These principles are not hard and fast rules, but over the years, it has seemed to me and to others archers I have known that such guidelines do help. For what it's worth, let's start as though you are a newcomer to the sport, seeking advice.

First is selection of an aiming method, a choice of crucial importance to the success and enjoyment of all your archery endeavors. Two methods offer themselves: The first is the "sight" method, in which the archer a) estimates or measures the distance to the target and b) uses some type of sighting procedure to aim his arrow. Sighting can be as simple as lining up the point of the arrow with the target or on some point in line with the target, or it can make use of any of various sighting devices which attach to the bow.

In my opinion, the best use for this method is in competition for scores in target archery where distances to targets are standardized, or on field courses where target distances vary, but are either posted at the shooting stake or are pretty well known to competitors.

Sight shooting is thus best adapted for competitive shooting where many shots are taken, consistency is required and speed is not a factor.

The second aiming method is called "instinctive"—probably for want of a better term. My definition: A method of aiming wherein no conscious effort is made to either estimate distance to the target or to use anything at all as a sighting device. It is achieved by intense and continuing concentration on the target with both eyes open throughout the draw, and at the Suburban Conference crown to either undefeated Livonia Franklin or once-defeated North Farmington. North handed the Westlanders their second loss in the league, 24-31, and the Rockets are out of the running for the title.

"We're going into the conference championships with a 3-2 record and I doubt if North or Franklin are suddenly going to collapse," said Glenn Coach Jerry Szukaitis. "Off of our meetings with the two teams, I'd give Franklin the edge for winning the title."

The championship was to be decided Tuesday at San Marino

Country Club in Farmington.

North's Paul Welch beat Glenn's Jim Kanclerz to the wire to give Farmington a first. He was clocked for the three-mile course in 15:42, while Kanclerz turned in a 16:11.

Glenn also had a fourth place finisher in Paul Stephens who had a 16:40 effort while Tom Andrews (16:50) and Chuck Honaker (17:24), were seventh and eighth, respectively. Tim Unold held down the 10th spot, touring the course in 18:07.

Dearborn Heights Robichaud harriers are on the verge of making history. Coach Jim Hadley's Bulldogs stretched their winning streak to eight, picking up a 15-50 triumph over Suburban Athletic Conference rival, Inkster, and turning back Willow Run, 22-35.

"This is the first time a cross country team has finished the dual meet season with an perfect record," said Hadley, "and if we should qualify out of the regionals in New Boston on Saturday, it will be the first time one of our teams will be represented in the state cross country finals."

"Whatever happens, this is the best cross country team in the school's history," Hadley added. Hadley admitted he "didn't know what to expect in Huron in the way of competition, but if we can put it together, I feel we have a chance to qualify for state."

Though they wound up 11 in the Class B phase of the University of Michigan - Dearborn campus invitational, Robichaud did have a pair of trophy winners. Bruce Brock placed fourth in 15:41 to become one of 10 runners named to the all-invitational team. Teammate Terry Ross had a 13th place finish (16:25.5) and also earned a trophy.

Grand Rapids Christian was the Class B winner, with Dearborn

Divine Child in second place.

Against Willow Run, Brock beat rival, Tony Law to the finish, then teammates Ross, Bill Rigby and Mike Drazga nailed down third, fourth and fifth places to seal the victory.

Robichaud took a perfect 4-0 SAC record to Rouge Park Wednesday in hopes of parlaying it into its second ever conference championship.

"Ecorse is the team we will be watching," Hadley said. "They're the ones who have the best chance of surprising us."

moment the arrow is released. Ideally, you should begin to concentrate on the target before the arrow is drawn and follow through by keeping your eyes still glued to the target for a few seconds after the release hopefully until the arrow hits the target. By "target," I mean the precise place where you want the arrow to hit. Don't aim at the whole deer, or the whole bale of hay. And try not to watch the arrow in flight. This calls for a steady hand and trained nerves to keep from being distracted by buck fever, or a big set of antlers. You can train yourself to this, but even the best archers sometimes can't help being distracted.

To anyone who has done any fast wing-shooting with shotgun, the advantages of the instinctive method must be obvious. One step of the sight method, that of estimating distance to the target, is eliminated. You have enough other things to think about without estimating distances—obstructions, wind direction, when to shoot, etc.

Without having to estimate distances, you can shoot instantly with accuracy at a target of opportunity at any distance within suitable range. It is particularly adaptable to "still hunting" where you cannot pre-determine the range at which game is likely to appear. Also, it is the best way to shoot at moving objects where the target distance might be changing constantly and where there would be no time to use a sight.

In short, the "instinctive" method consists simply of instant or "automatic" aiming, like throwing a baseball. Proficiency is acquired by frequent practice. One isn't born with it, as the name "instinctive" implies.

While both sight and instinctive aiming methods have their values, let's assume you have decided to use the instinctive method to become proficient at hunting. Several points must now be considered:

First, use good equipment, especially arrows. You cannot shoot better than your arrows can fly. They must be matched to the bow, reasonably matched to one another, and absolutely straight for best performance. Make sure the heads are at dead center on the end of the shaft by rolling the arrow on a flat surface. Good arrows instill confidence.

Second, when hunting it is extremely important that the broadheads on big-game arrows be kept razor sharp, and protected from one another in the quiver. These cutting edges are their killing power. If your arrow bumps a stone or tree, and after every shot, hone the edges back to a fine sharpness with a small file. Third, learn good form and technique by joining an archery club, watching trained archers, or shooting at supervised ranges. Ask for help to get started in the right direction, and ask for criticism.

Fifth, practice frequently. Shoot first at targets only three or four yards away until you can hit a spot three inches in diameter most of the time. Then step back several yards and shoot again until you get the feel of the new distance and can hit fairly close to the spot. Continue this routine until you feel fairly confident at 30 or 40 yards, but try never to think about the actual distance. Repeat the entire procedure when you haven't shot for several weeks.

5. Personals

DEAR FRIENDS, I prayed to Holy Spirit of the good Lord Jesus Christ and God Almighty, when the Holy Spirit of the Lord Jesus came into my heart. Let us all pray to Jesus Christ and God Almighty and they will forgive us for our sins, when you get born again of the Holy Spirit of the good Lord Jesus you will have a wonderful feeling in your heart. And they will have our names written in the Lamb's Book of Life. Yours Truly, Clifford Grant Horn. Be sure you are Baptized under water. Pray from your heart. Read the Holy Bible each day. Jesus Christ has all power in Heaven and in Earth. St. Matthew 28: 18-19.

"Where Customers Bring Their Friends"

MAKE US AN OFFER!

Now's your chance to cash in on the new-car sale of the year.

At Toyota Ann Arbor, we still have plenty of new 1978 Toyotas in stock... and we'd sure like to get rid of them fast. In fact, we're so anxious to sell you a new Toyota that we'll take less profit per car than ever before.

That includes unbelievable deals like these:
$150 over dealer cost on all automatics;
$150 over dealer cost on all trucks.

Why are we making the sacrifice? Simple: with the demand for Toyotas so fierce now, we'll only get more later if we sell more now.

So, you've got us where you want us. We just have to get rid of every '78 now.

Come in and make us an offer.

Every '78 in stock goes now. No reasonable offer refused.

Receptions: Plan early carefully

Very probably the most important party in the life of any couple is their wedding reception. It is a time of renewing acquaintances, a gathering of family and friends and the introduction to a new circle of people.

Depending on whether you want your reception to be "small and intimate", "large, but limited to families" or "a complete wing-ding", make plans early and include all details.

In the past 20 years receptions have more and more become on the "party" order at a hall, with catered food, beverage refreshments and an orchestra for entertainment.

In selecting each of these particulars of your "party", the couple must take into consideration many factors and makes selections accordingly. For instance, a guest list of 300 would necessitate a hall big enough to accommodate all, but small enough so that everyone is together.

Choosing the caterer also is a matter of great detail. While most commercial catering services provide either adequate, good or excellent cuisine, that is not enough. Would you prefer a sit-down dinner, served by a waitress, or a buffet, where each guest proceeds along banquet tables and makes his or her own selections?

Then there is the matter of type of food. Some caterers specialize in particular nationality cooking, which might have an effect on your choice.

Beverages also are a matter of personal taste, but the guest list also comes into focus—punch, liquor, beer or soft drinks for the after-meal portion of the reception. In any case, decide what you want and how much you can afford.

... not many grandmothers can do the Hustle...

Usually, it is best to hire one of many bands that play all types of music—from standard fox trots, waltzes and polks to contemporary—but a particular nationality imbalance would necessitate an orchestra specializing in that ethnic music.

Too often a sentimental dance between a bride or groom and an elder loved one turns into a total disaster because the orchestra knows only one type of music. As an example, not to many grandmothers can do the "Hustle", but would be elated waltzing with the newlyweds.

Remember, it is your reception, but the decisions usually are made for your guests, friends and relatives. Right decisions will result in many years of memories, while the wrong choice could result in bitter feelings and, most of all, wasted expense.

ENTRANCE ON MAIN STREET IN DOWNTOWN PLYMOUTH

It's all tradition!

Through the ages bridal gowns have come in all shapes and sizes, not to mention lengths and materials. But whatever style gown the bride will be wearing this winter, rest assured it's "ancestor" was a "plain Jane".

Wedding white hasn't always been the color for brides. In fact in Saxon days, white gowns were worn by poor brides. Because dyes were expensive, the more colorful gowns were worn by wealthy brides.

And the colors chosen had a meaning. While yellow was shunned because it meant jealousy, blue stood for fidelity and green for youth. During the American Revolution more than one patriotic bride wore red.

It wasn't until the Victorian period that white was revived for weddings. But, alas, most gowns were of heavy brocades and satins and dark in color.

By the early 1900s lighter fabrics—cotton and lace—were having their influence on gowns that featured high necklines and slimming dropped waistlines.

In the Flapper Era of the '20s, brides were wearing gowns of silk crepe, with V-neck styling, gathered straight skirts and cummerbunds.

Satin came on the scene in the Depression years and has remained a bridal favorite ever since.

The '50s saw the introduction of ballerina style gown, while the '60s saw the advent of the still popular princess-style gown.

The bride's veil, which stands for modesty, chastity, obedience and submission. In some countries the belief was that evil spirits were attracted to the woman, and a veil was worn to keep them away.

Like gowns, veils have changed. Hundreds of years ago, veils were many colored and woven with gold and silver threads. Now brides are completing their bridal ensembles with chapel trains, illusion veils, mantillas, picture hats and even fresh flowers.

Just as gowns have change through the years so have the other aspects of weddings.

The tradition of showering the newlyweds with rice has given way to other more environmental practical tidbits like grass seed or bird seed. The tradition of throwing rice has Chinese origins and wishes that the couple may always have a full pantry.

Bridal bouquets date back to Roman times when the bride carried bunches of herbs under her veil. Orange blossoms were the choice of the empire's Syrian nomads and symbolized fertility.

English brides have long favored roses as their bridal flowers, and logically, June, the month of roses, is a popular month for weddings.

Popular flowers for today's bridal bouquets are roses, carnations, daisies and baby's breath, as well as sweetheart roses.

Early beginnings also are part of the custom of engagement and wedding rings. The former had its origins in the giving of gifts, such as cattle, food or jewels, by the bridegroom to prove his worthiness and good intentions. Later the gift became a personal ornament for the bride-to-be. Hence the practice of giving an engagement ring.

The wedding band goes back to caveman days, when the bride wore a bracelet of woven rushes, later replaced by a band of iron to show the lasting quality of the marriage.

In Roman times the custom was to place the ring on the third finger of the left hand, the finger believed to be a direct line to the heart.

So be your wedding small and simple, before a minister or judge, in a garden or church, remember it's probably steeped in tradition.

Who pays what bills?

When it comes to planning the wedding questions invariably arise over who pays for what. And like all other aspects of wedding, there is a traditional division of expenses.

Here is a look at that breakdown, according to etiquette expert Elizabeth L. Post.

THE BRIDE OF HER FAMILY usually pays for the invitations and announcements, wedding dress and accessories, trousseau, floral decorations for the church and reception, including bouquets or corsages for the bride and bridesmaids, engagement and wedding photographs, soloist, organist and sexton, the reception, groom's ring and wedding gift, gifts for the bride's attendants and their lodgings.

THE BRIDEGROOM OR HIS FAMILY usually pays for the bride's engagement and wedding rings, marriage license, clergyman's fee, bride's bouquet and corsage, boutonnieres for his father and himself, gloves, ties and boutonniere for the men in the wedding party, wedding gift for the bride, the honeymoon, gifts for the best man and ushers, lodging for his attendants and the rehearsal dinner.

THE BRIDESMAIDS' expenses are for dresses and accessories, transportation to and from the wedding site, gift to the couple, participation in showers, including one or two shower gifts, and a share of the joint present from all the bridesmaids.

THE USHERS' expenses are the rental of the wedding clothes, transportation to and from the wedding site, gift to the couple, a share of the ushers' joint presents and a share of the expenses of the bachelor dinner, if given by the ushers.

You've decided it's time to tell the whole world the good news, but how? The diamond ring tells part of the story, but what about the details?

For brides-to-be and new Mrs. who want to share that "special day" with others, Associated Newspapers offers bridal questionnaires, as well as engagement forms for announcing the "start of it all".

When filling out the forms, we ask that names—first and last—be printed to avoid misspellings and that the proper title's of places of employment schools and club and social affiliations be followed by the city and state.

Telephone numbers should be included with the information in case a question does arise.

Pictures will be printed with engagement announcements and wedding stories. For the former, we prefer wallet size photos, however, larger studio photos are acceptable.

Wedding photos can be of either the bride alone, or the bridal couple, and must be of professional quality.

Marriage vows have meaning

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

Marriage is the object of many jokes — from the hen-pecked husband to the obtrusive, interfering mother-in-law. And comedians and others get a lot of mileage out of the jokes.

For instance, they say, love is blind, and marriage is an institution. Therefore, it's an institution for the blind.

But, through all the humor, there's a very serious side to repeating the vows that make a man and woman husband and wife. And like so many other modern day practices, the vows have undergone many changes and are repeated in some of the unusual places.

Years ago, a church was the place that the vast majority of couples said their vows. Everyone dressed for the occasion in their "Sunday best" or rented tuxedos.

Many times the bride would make her own gown or wear her mother's wedding gown with great pride. But whatever the bride and groom wore, you knew two things. They were dressed in the finest they could afford — and they approached the altar with fear and trembling (or at least a few butterflies in their stomach).

One thing has always seemed amazing is that all the preparations for the wedding take an unusual amount of time and preparation, but the actual repeating of the vows and the wedding ceremony are over in a few minutes.

Up until a few years ago, a great many couples used the traditional Anglo-Saxon wedding ceremony for many centuries from the "Book of Common Prayer".

It reads as follows:

"Into this holy estate these two persons present come now to be joined. If any man can show just cause why they may not lawfully be joined together, let him now speak, or else hereafter for ever hold his peace."

The officiant then warned the couple that if there was any "impediment" to them being lawfully joined together, that they were to now confess it.

Then the minister would ask the man: "... wilt thou have this woman to be thy wedded wife, to live together after God's ordinance in the holy estate of matrimony?

"Wilt thou love her, comfort her, honor, and keep her in sickness and in health; and, forsaking all others, keep thee only unto her, so long as ye both shall live?"

The man would answer: "I will."

Then a similar vow would be requested of the woman and she would also answer, "I will."

Then the minister asked: "Who giveth this woman to be married to this man?" It was usually the father of the bride.

Then the minister asked: "Who giveth this woman to be married to this man?" It was usually the father of the bride.

Then the minister would ask each to repeat after him. First, the husband. "I—, take thee—, to be my wedded wife, to have and to hold from this day forward; for better for worse, for richer for poorer, in sickness and in health, to love and to cherish, till death do us part, according to God's holy ordinance; and thereto I plight thee my troth."

Then the woman would repeat the same words after the minister, but in later years the words "pledge thee my faith" replaced "plight thee my troth" in many ceremonies.

Ceremonies may vary somewhat from the above, but the basics are about the same.

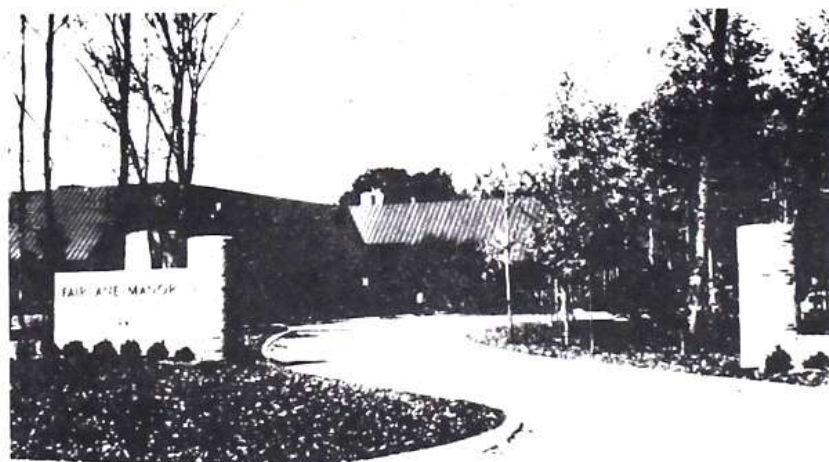

However, vows are changing each year. Some couples now write their own vows and can include anything in them they want (as long as the officiant agrees).

Not only are the vows changing with each passing year, but the place where couples are married is changing also. Take for instance the increasing list of weddings performed by mayors.

For the special day

The flowers carried by the bride on her very special day have to be just perfect, and Shirley Fuller, co-owner of Shirley Dean Florist in Inkster, is well aware of that. She specializes in wedding bouquets and said she looks forward to Thursday, Friday and Saturday because arranging wedding bouquets is her favorite part of the job. Brides can choose fresh, dried or silk flowers in any number of styles.—ANP photo.

Flowers: let florist be your 'guide'

Flowers come in a variety of colors, sizes, shapes and textures. Through their varied combinations they can set the mood from cheerful to sedate to sad.

But when it comes to deciding what the mood will be at your wedding, it pays to ask questions. Ordering the wedding bouquets and floral arrangements is the one time when it pays to plan ahead.

For the bride-to-be a visit to the florist well in advance of the wedding can avoid hassles later.

When discussing the floral requirements be sure to be specific. Let the florist know what the mood, texture and detailing the bride's and attendants' gowns will be, so his suggestions will be more appropriate.

It also helps to visit the florist with an open mind. Deciding before you see what the alternatives are could close the door to more appropriate floral accents for the wedding ensemble.

If you have your heart set on bouquets, you may miss such arrangements as flowers in wicker baskets, a flower ball that dangles from satin ribbons or even nosegays.

For bride's on a tight budget, don't be shy about asking what flowers will be in season at the time of the wedding. Out-of-season or exotic blooms can be costly, since they have to be flown in.

If you're a nostalgic bride who wants to keep the bouquet forever, don't overlook dried flower or fabric flowers mixed with fresh greenery. Consider having a second bouquet made up for tossing or even a detachable piece.

If the wedding day will be a long one consider spraying the bouquets with water to revive them, or ask about nosegay containers that will water the flowers throughout the day.

And finally, don't think your bouquet has to be all white with greenery. Some bridal gowns have soft touches of color to them that can be carried over in the bouquet for a nice touch.

Second marriage: Keep it simple Statistics now show that one in every four marriages will end in divorce. And while etiquette spell out the do's and don'ts of first weddings, many questions arise over the second nuptial ceremony.

What is proper for the first marriage in many instances is a taboo for the second time around.

The term second marriage is determined by the bride's marital status. If the bride is single, but her groom divorced—no matter how many times—then she is entitled to all of the splendor of a first wedding.

In the case of an annulment, the person involved legally is considered as having never been married. However, in the case of the bride, it would be foolhardy to expect the same wedding extravaganza the second time around.

An engagement announcement for the couple should be informal. In the case of the bride she may chose to call her friends and relatives to let them know personally of her intentions to remarry.

Showers are not customary, if the bride is widowed or divorcee. Their purpose is to help the newlywed furnish her household, and it can be presumed that the previously married's household is in order.

Invitations to the wedding can cause problems. For the young divorcee, her parents may wish to issue the invitations in their name, stating their daughter's Christian name, their last name and the name of her former husband.

vitations should use "Mrs.", her given name and the last names of her parents and former husband.

For the young widow, the style is that of the young divorcee, while for the mature women it should be her full married name.

Probably, the most confusing of second marriages is the type of ceremony—formal or informal.

Formal vows should be considered a very definite no-no. Since most clergymen still are reluctant about marrying divorced couples, the bride SHOULD visit the minister before planning her second marriage service.

There is a chance the minister may not perform the ceremony at the church, just as there is the possibility he will perform it elsewhere.

A rule of thumb for the nuptial service is to keep it simple and small.

Much of the trappings of the first wedding—processional, and recessional—are not needed, as are floral decorations and music.

But remember the minister has the final say so.

In the way of bridal attire, wedding veils, elegant bouquets and cathedral trains are out of place, although a white outfit is acceptable.

Receptions for the previously marrieds should be considered strictly as social affairs, so their size depends of the whims of the newlyweds. However, the receiving line should not include parents, children or attendants and should be informal in nature.

All things considered, in planning a second marriage the key words are simple and informal.
